Empress of Britain To Share Honor Of Carrying King

Chosen for Return From Canadian Tour; Australia Westward

Tour Starts Tomorrow

LONDON (CP)—It was officially announced tonight the King and Queen will return to Great Britain in the Canadian Pacific flagship Empress of Britain at the conclusion of their visits to Canada and United States.

The Empress of Britain, returning from a world cruise, reached Port of Spain, Trinidad, today. She is due to leave New York May 16 for Southampton and then is scheduled to enter drydock for a general overhaul.

The nation's pulse beat faster today as the hour approached for its farewell to its democratic King and Queen, who will sail from Portsmouth tomorrow aboard the liner Empress of Australia on their long discussed historic journey to North America.

Six weeks' absence in Canada, the United States and Newfoundland of the sovereigns and their homeland subjects since their accession. Also, when the monarch steps ashore at Quebec May 15 it will be a precedent-making stride, as George VI is the first British king to visit one of the Dominions during his reign.

Seized with the significance of the event, the Motherland is determined to give the King and his popular Consort a rousing and memorable send-off. From all parts of the empire, citizens have been streaming into London for days to bid them "bon voyage."

Thousands more are converging on the Portsmouth naval base, from where Their Majesties will set sail for the "new world" at 3 p.m. tomorrow (6 a.m., P.S.T.).

TRAIN TRIP

At 12.30 p.m. tomorrow Their Majesties will leave Buckingham Palace for Waterloo Station, accompanied by a captain's escort of Life Guards and members of the Royal suite going to Canada.

The Royal train is scheduled to leave at 12.45 p.m. and arrive at Portsmouth at 2.15 p.m. After the ancient ceremony of presenting the Portsmouth fortress keys to the sovereign on the steps of the city's guildhall, Their Majesties will board the Empress of Australia, which is resplendent in a fresh coat of white paint, and the departure will be made.

Federal Loan to B.C. Extended Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. C. A. Dunning, Finance Minister, tabled in Parliament today an order-in-council extending for one year a $1,500,000 unemployment relief loan to British Columbia that would otherwise have matured May 29.

A provincial treasury bill bearing interest at 3 per cent is security for the loan.

THE WEATHER

The weather has been cooler and somewhat unsettled over British Columbia with rain in the Okanagan and Kootenay districts and also on the north coast. Poland Rejects Hitler's Demands

Not Yielding Rights, But Would Negotiate If Reich Plans Peaceful, Says Beck

By ELMER W. PETERSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff

WARSAW — Poland's Col. Joseph Beck replied to Germany today with firm rejection of Chancellor Hitler's demands for Danzig and a wide German right of way through the Polish Corridor—but left the door open for further "peaceful conversations."

Speaking before the Sejm (parliament), and interrupted constantly by thunderous applause, the Foreign Minister declared that Pomorze (the Polish Corridor) and rights in the Free City of Danzig belonged to Poland and that Poland would not give them up.

He called Germany's claims "one-sided demands," in which the element of reciprocity was lacking.

Poland is willing to negotiate, he declared, only on the basis of "peaceful intentions" and "peaceful methods of action," and only as regards matters not directly affecting Polish sovereignty over the Corridor and her rights in Danzig.

"If the government of the Reich is actually guided by these two conditions in its relations to our country, all conversations, naturally respecting the principles which I have enumerated, are possible," the minister said.

"If such conversations materialize the Polish government will, according to its custom, regard the problem objectively, with a view to experiences of recent times, but without refusing its best will."

A memorandum to this effect, Col. Beck announced, was being delivered today to the German Foreign Office in Berlin.

REICH ENVOY ABSENT

The German ambassador to Warsaw, Dr. Adolf Hans von Hothke, was not present to hear Col. Beck's address.

Among diplomats applauding Beck's address was the United States ambassador, Anthony Drexel Biddle Jr.

The minister began his address at 11.15 a.m. (2.15 a.m., P.S.T.), and for 20 minutes delivered a calm, carefully-worded declaration of Polish policy, which left no doubt as to the attitude of his country toward Germany's claims.

He concluded with emphasis on Poland's desire for peace, but brought Polish deputies to their feet in cheers with this declaration:

"We in Poland do not know the conception of peace at any price. There is only one thing in the life of men and nations and states which is without price—that is honor."

Beck enumerated four principles which he insisted must be respected in negotiations with Germany:

1. Poland stands firmly by her rights and interests in overseas trade and maritime policy in Danzig.
2. Poland will not let herself be barred from the Baltic.
3. Poland will not permit her sovereignty to be restricted in the corridor—which Beck insisted is rightfully called the "Province of Pomorze"—although she has no desire to obstruct Germans in their communications with East Prussia.

Canadian Pavilion Poor

New York Fair Visitors Find It Unfinished And in Background

NEW YORK (Special)—Canadians attending the World's Fair here this week were disappointed to find that the Canadian pavilion is not completed and won't be for nearly a month.

No one here is able to explain why Canada has fallen down in this way, especially when the fair is just overnight from the Canadian centres where construction of the Canadian pavilion was planned.

Canadians were dismayed when they found countries in distant parts of the world had their buildings here ready by opening day and receiving visitors by the thousands—such as the Turkish, Japanese, Norwegian, Danish and Russian pavilions.

The spacious British pavilion, with a figure of Britannia atop a column hundreds of feet high down which a river of water cascades, was opened to the public on Sunday, following the inaugural ceremonies. A guards' band brought from London plays daily from a stand above an English garden flanked by an English "buttery." In another part of the grounds is located the "Merrie England Village," a feature of which is a pipe band of kilted girls brought from Scotland.

their communications with East Prussia.

4. Although the population of Danzig is predominantly German, its livelihood and prosperity depend on Poland.

ENDING OF PACT

Beck criticized Hitler's "pretext" for denouncing the Polish-German nonaggression pact because of Poland's new mutual guarantees with Great Britain.

He said that although he was ready to explain to Germany the real nature of the British guarantees, the German ambassador had not given him a chance until today.

JOSEPH BECK

Observers saw special significance in Beck's unexplained reference to the "various other allusions" which he said were made in conversations with the German government. These allusions, he declared, "reached far wider and farther than subjects now under consideration," and he reserved the right to "return to this matter if necessary."

It was believed in some quarters that Beck referred to proposals by Hitler for a joint policy of Poland and Germany in regard to other European nations. Observers pointed out that Beck, in not amplifying the point, carefully avoided any possible embarrassment to Hitler and the German government.

COMMENDED BY VETERAN

During prolonged applause at the end of the address, apud Gen. Lucjan Zetigowski, a member of Parliament and Polish military hero who occupied Wilno in 1920, went to Beck and congratulated him. He was obviously greatly moved by the speech.

Diplomatic observers in Warsaw characterized the address with such terms as: "Most reasonable" and "a remarkable combination of firmness and finesse." The general opinion was that it was a strong but entirely statesmanlike declaration. It was asserted it could not be regarded as in any way detracting from the dignity of Hitler's position.

Fog Delays Plane

JOGGINS, N.S. (CP)—A Maritime Airlines monoplane, missing since yesterday afternoon on a regular flight from Halifax to Saint John, was found safe today at Sand Cove, 20 miles from this Cumberland County mining town. A forced landing was caused by fog.

Germans See No Basis for New Talks With Poles

Beck Leaves Country Up Blind Alley, Says News Service

Hitler Consults Aides

BERLIN (AP)—Germany does not consider Polish Foreign Minister Beck's address today furnishes a basis for further negotiations, declared the authoritative commentary service, Dienst Aus Deutschland.

Informed observers believed its declaration indicated the trend of official reaction.

Chancellor Hitler and his foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, conferred at the Fuehrer's mountain retreat on Beck's answer to Hitler's "one and only" demand for Danzig and an extra-territorial route for Germany through Pomorze (the Polish Corridor).

Dienst Aus Deutschland said of Beck's speech that "it seems very much as though Poland has, as regards the Danzig question, run into a blind alley from which there is no escape."

The service added:

"However, the blind alley into which Poland drove of her own accord is no reason for Germany to renounce the necessity for a solution of the Danzig question."

"For if Poland points to her honor, this applies in a much larger degree also to Germany." The editor of Dienst Aus Deutschland indicated he had been in close touch with the Foreign Office.

WILL BE STUDIED

"Although a closer study of the Warsaw counter-memorandum by the government must be awaited, it already looks exactly as though the Poles had run into a complete deadlock as regards the Danzig question," the editor wrote.

"Minister Beck, to be sure, has carefully refrained from identifying himself in any way with the purely propagandistic demands of the Polish press—demands which in England and France cause justified apprehension lest the Poles might lose their heads. On the other hand, he attempted, however, in a polemic manner, to insinuate Germany had the intention of crowding the Poles off the Baltic."

Reports from Bavaria said Hitler also had summoned Albert Forster, Nazi district leader in Danzig, and Arthur Greiser, a Nazi leader and president of Free City's senate.

These reports, however, lacked official confirmation. Prince Stefan Lubomirski, Polish charge d'affaires, presented Poland's counter note to Germany's denunciation of the 1934 Polish-German non-aggression treaty to Baron von Westzaecker, German Foreign Office undersecretary.

Charge Against Senator Logan Ended in Ottawa

Accusation Based On Gypsum Queen Case Withdrawn

Lapointe Consents

OTTAWA (CP)—A two-year-old charge against Senator Hance J. Logan of Parrsboro, N.S., of obtaining $71,276 from the Dominion Government by false representations, was withdrawn in magistrate's court here today.

Magistrate Glenn Strike permitted Crown Attorney Raoul Mercier to withdraw the charge. The withdrawal also was made with the consent of the Minister of Justice and the Attorney-General of Ontario.

Senator Logan, whose long illness caused repeated adjournments of hearing of the case, did not appear in court, but was represented by his counsel, Roydon A. Hughes.

Mr. Mercier said withdrawal of the charge was subject to the right of the Crown to lay a later charge should new evidence warrant such action.

The charge against Senator Logan rose out of the famous Gypsum Queen reparations case. It was sworn out September 23, 1937, by George Edwin Beament of the Ottawa legal firm of Beament and Beament.

That firm had acted for the defence of Captain Freeman Hatfield, also of Parrsboro, who received a reformatory sentence in 1937 in connection with the case. Captain Hatfield had been charged with defrauding the reparations commission of $71,276.

VICTORIAN RESCUED AT SEYMOUR INLET

G. B. Morrison Recovers After Being Lost Seven Days in Wilds

ALLISON HARBOR, B.C. (CP)—George B. Morrison, mine owner and prospector of Victoria, was recovering here today from hunger and exposure suffered while lost for seven days in bush-covered mountains near Seymour Inlet, 250 miles north of Vancouver.

His clothes ripped and flesh torn from crawling through brush, Morrison was found on the beach by Anders Hindon, hand logger of Seymour Inlet, who brought him here in his gasoline launch. He was treated by Dr. Vernon Counter, who was awaiting favorable weather before continuing a canoe trip from Seattle to Alaska, with his wife.

Morrison left his camp April 25 in an outboard motorboat to stake claims in the Seymour Inlet district, intending to return the same day.

Britain Accepts Russia's Triple Alliance Plan

Russian Assembly Called Pact With France Expected to Call For Mutual Defence

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia's Supreme Soviet was summoned today to meet May 25 in the midst of grave international events centering immediately on Poland and in general on efforts of Great Britain and France to form a security alliance with the help of the Soviet Union.

The call for the parliamentary session was issued soon after Polish Foreign Minister Joseph Beck had replied firmly but patently to Chancellor Hitler's demands on Danzig and the Polish Corridor.

Beck's address, however, drew no immediate direct reaction in Moscow.

The May 25 session will be the Russian parliament's third meeting. The last was held in August, 1938, during the crisis with Japan over the Changkufeng area in the Far East.

Gayda writing in Il Giornale d'Italia, called Poland's attention to "proofs of Italian friendship" and warned her against permitting her own interests to be "deformed by hypothetical foreign interests."

The Polish question is expected to form the primary subject of the conference tomorrow at Lake Como between the foreign ministers of Italy and Germany, Count Galeazzo Ciano and Joachim von Ribbentrop.

negotiate on a basis of equality. His firmness, on the other hand, in refusing "one-sided concessions," also was considered to reflect the views of Britain and France, both of which promised to help Poland resist any threat of her independence.

Beck's speech was regarded in both government and diplomatic quarters as firm but conciliatory and designed to show an unprovocative attitude on Poland's part.

Paris Approves Beck's Speech

PARIS (AP)—Sources close to the French government today characterized the speech of Foreign Minister Joseph Beck as a "calm, logical answer to Hitler."

French diplomats expressed themselves as in complete accord with the tone of the declaration. It was "moderate but undeniably firm," one said.

Kansas City Boss's Aide Found Drowned

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The body of Edward L. Schneider, 46, missing business aide of Boss T. J. Pendergast, was pulled from the Missouri River here today.

Workers found the body about two and a half miles downstream from the bridge where Schneider's automobile was found last Monday.

Two suicide notes were found in the car.

Last Friday Schneider testified before a federal grand jury which the following day indicted Pendergast on United States income tax evasion charges. The indictment alleged Pendergast obtained money from business interests under Schneider's name.

Far East Barred

LONDON (AP)—The British government today accepted Soviet Russia's proposal to form a British-French-Russian military alliance and offered a supplementary plan for supporting Poland and Roumania against possible aggression.

Details of the supplementary plan, designed to overcome Polish and Roumanian objections to receiving aid directly from the Soviet government, were not disclosed.

It was understood the projected alliance would provide that Great Britain, France and Russia undertake to go to the aid of each other if any of them should be attacked by a European power.

But it was authoritatively stated such a pact would not apply in the Far East, for instance, if Russia were attacked by Japan.

These disclosures followed a meeting of the foreign affairs committee of the cabinet.

The committee approved a note to be dispatched, probably tonight, to Britain's ambassador at Moscow, replying to Russian proposals for a security combination of the three powers.

Official quarters which told of the note said a plan had been devised which might get around Polish and Roumanian objections to receiving aid from the Soviet government.

ON REQUEST

The note was said in informed circles to be "extremely conciliatory."

It was understood to repeat the government's willingness to support Poland and Roumania "as and when" those countries ask help.

From pessimism in official British quarters after the resignation of Maxim Litvinoff as Soviet Russia's Foreign Commissar, the attitude seemed to have changed to one of optimism some sort of agreement with Russia still was probable.

It was believed in London the French had urged Prime Minister Chamberlain to make some concessions to the Russian point of view.

Consequently, the British note was said to have gone into detail to show why Soviet proposals were not acceptable now because of Polish and Roumanian objections to a military agreement with Russia. (Both objected to Russian troops on their soil as they both have territory which formerly belonged to Russia.)

The original Soviet proposal was that in addition to forming a triple alliance the three powers guarantee the independence of all Baltic and Black Sea powers.

TO SUPPLY PLANES

There was no official indication of how Great Britain proposed to overcome Roumanian and Polish objections to a military pact, but it was believed she suggested that Russia send planes and other war materials to Roumania and Poland if they asked for them.

Earlier today during discussion of the Commons Prime Minister Chamberlain said a reply to the Soviet proposals would be dispatched "in the very near future."

The Prime Minister said views on the Russian plan had been exchanged with "interested governments," and particularly with France.

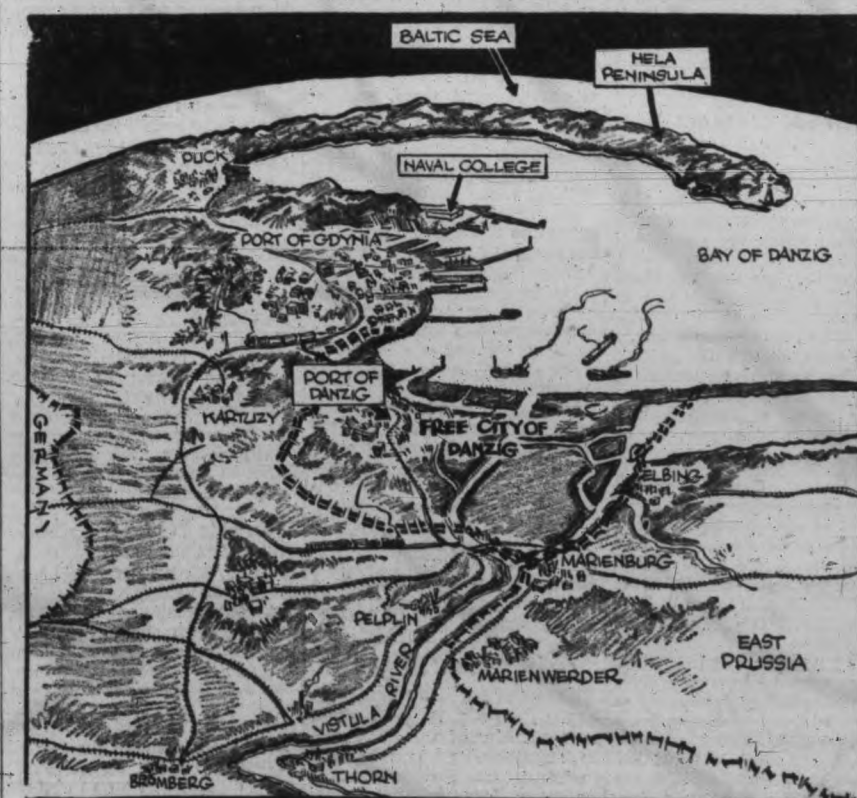

"A communication was received yesterday from the French government and it is hoped to be able to send further expression of His Majesty's government's views to Moscow in the very near future," he told the House.

BIG TAXES FOR FRENCH DEFENCE

PARIS (CP-Havas)—New taxes recently imposed by government decree for defence purposes may absorb up to 80 per cent of the initial profits of firms working on national defence orders, Finance Minister Paul Reynaud today told the chamber of deputies' finance committee.

He also revealed that gold has been steadily flowing into France since last November, and that negotiations are under way between France and the United States for a fiscal assistance agreement to facilitate suppression of fraudulent transactions. Details of the agreement were not made known.

Colorful Escort For Royal Ship

Flag-decked Home
Fleet to See Liner
Out of Portsmouth

LONDON (CP) — When the King and Queen arrive at Waterloo Station shortly after noon tomorrow at the start of their trip to Canada they will be met by Queen Mother Mary, the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, the Duke and Duchess of Kent and Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain, who will accompany them on the Royal train to Portsmouth.

Prime Minister Chamberlain, Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax, Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, Sir Thomas Inskip, Dominions Secretary, and Joseph P. Kennedy, the United States ambassador, will bid farewell at the station, but will not proceed to the naval base.

The place of honor on the station platform will be given to a detachment of the London Association of Canadian Ex-servicemen, representative of practically every unit of the Canadian Corps during the Great War and every province in the Dominion.

Picked representatives of the three branches of the defence service will supplement the honor guard which His Majesty will inspect before boarding the train.

Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, while disappointed over not being able to go on the tour, are overjoyed at being permitted to travel with their parents to Portsmouth and say goodbye aboard the liner. Incidentally, it will be the first time the Princesses have been aboard an ocean-going vessel.

ESCORT FOR LINER

As the Empress of Australia leaves Portsmouth harbor she will be met by a squadron of Royal Air Force planes which will escort her as far as the Needles. Reaching Spithead, the ship will pick up the cruisers Southampton and Glasgow, which will escort her across the Atlantic. Other ships of the Home Fleet in full ceremonial dress will escort her well into the English Channel.

The battleship Repulse, originally selected as the ship for the Royal voyage but withdrawn as the result of international tension, will accompany the Royal squadron part way across the Atlantic. There still is a possibility the Repulse may be commissioned to bring their Majesties back.

During Their Majesties' absence in Canada the Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose will be left in the care of Governor Marion Crawford and will divide their time between Buckingham Palace and the Royal Lodge, Windsor Great Park.

Their parents have promised to be in daily communication with them as they cross the Atlantic and on the tour through Canada and the United States. When Their Majesties return home late in June their daughters will be on the quay to meet them.

AT U.S. EMBASSY

Last night United States Ambassador Joseph Kennedy and Mrs. Kennedy entertained King George and Queen Elizabeth at dinner at the American embassy.

They served Their Majesties American delicacies, such as Baltimore shad roe, Virginia ham, Georgia pickled peaches and strawberry shortcake.

Guests included William C. Bullitt, United States ambassador to France, who flew from Paris for the party.

All nine Kennedy children— together for the first time since the ambassador came to London— met the King and Queen.

The dinner was unique in at least one way—when the guests sat down the menu before them did not read potage aux champignons, petits pois or pommes nouvelles. Printed in English it simply read mushroom soup, green peas and new potatoes.

Even at Buckingham Palace and 10 Downing Street menus are printed in French, but "not in my house," announced Mr. Kennedy, and another diplomatic precedent was broken.

Moscow Lifts Censorship

MOSCOW (AP) — Direct censorship of outgoing press messages was abolished in Moscow yesterday, so foreign correspondents now may send dispatches to the telegraph office at any hour without first submitting them to the Foreign Office.

At the same time, the chief of the press section of the Foreign Office warned that messages considered obviously hostile or injurious to Soviet prestige would expose the writer to expulsion from Russia "without delay."

Large diamonds are "finger-printed." Flaws are catalogued so carefully that a stone can be recognized even if it has been recut.

Poland Firm in Defence

Beck, Addressing Parliament, Asks What
Is Hitler's Aim in Making Demands

WARSAW (AP) — Foreign Minister Joseph Beck, in his speech to the Sejm (parliament) today spoke of Polish-British relations, saying:

"It was possible to establish rapidly the principles of Polish and British collaboration, first of all because we made it clear to each other that the intentions of both the governments are concordant on basic European problems; certainly neither Great Britain nor Poland has any aggressive intentions whatever, but they are as determined in the defence of certain basic principles of conduct in international life."

In the section of his speech in which he rejected Hitler's Danzig and Polish Corridor demands but left the way clear for "peaceful conversations," Col. Beck at length reviewed the history of German-Polish relations, including the nonaggression pact denounced by Germany.

As regards Danzig he declared Poland's attitude had been a correct one. "Seeking reasonable and conciliatory solutions, we have purposely not endeavored to exert any influence on the free national, ideological and cultural development of the German majority in the Free City," he said.

"I shall not extend to all those by quoting examples. They are sufficiently well known to all those who have been concerned in any way with the matter. But when, after repeated statements of German statesmen who respected our views and expressed the opinion that 'this provincial town will not be the object of a conflict between Poland and Germany,' I hear a demand for the annexation of Danzig to the Reich, when I get no reply to our proposals of March 25 of a common guarantee of the existence and rights of the free city, and I learn subsequently that it has been regarded as a refusal of negotiations, I have to ask myself what is the real aim of it all?"

"Is it the freedom of the German population of Danzig, which is not menaced, or matters of prestige—or is it a matter of bargaining from the Baltic, from which Poland will not let herself be barred?"

OLD POLISH AREA

As regards the Corridor, which Beck described as "ancient Polish land with an insignificant percentage of German colonists," he said:

"We have given to the German Reich all railway facilities; we have allowed its citizens to travel without customs or transport formalities from the Reich to East Prussia. We have suggested the extension of these facilities to road transport. And again the question appears—what is the real aim of it all?"

Again reverting to his firm attitude as regards Poland's territorial integrity, the minister declared: "We have no reason to obstruct the German citizens in their communication with their eastern province. But we have on the other hand no grounds whatever for restricting our sovereignty on our own territory."

"In the first and the second instance, that is in the matter of the future of Danzig and of the communications from Pomerania, it is still a case of one-sided concessions, which the government of the Reich seems to be demanding from us. A self-respecting nation does not make one-sided concessions. Where is the reciprocity? It looks rather vague in the German proposals."

FRONTIER QUESTION
In a further allusion to the question of Danzig and the Corridor, Beck declared: "In his speech the Chancellor of the Reich proposes as a concession on his part the recognition and definite acceptance of the existing frontier between Poland and Germany."

"I have to state that it would have been a recognition of our property indisputably de jure and de facto, so that this proposal also cannot alter my point that the Germans claims with regard to Danzig and the motor road remain one-sided demands."

Referring to Germany's denunciation of the Polish-German nonaggression pact which he described "as an attempt to give some better course to history between two great nations," Beck said this was "not an insignificant matter."

"However, every treaty is worth as much as the consequences which follow it. And if the policy and conduct of the partner diverges from the principles of the pact, we have no reason for mourning its slacking or dissolution."

Col. Beck's speech was broadcast throughout Europe and was heard also in Canada and the United States.

COMMONS FACES SATURDAY WORK

OTTAWA (CP) — After a protest from J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, the House of Commons this afternoon decided to sit tomorrow. Usually no sitting is held on Saturday.

Prime Minister King said the government had no desire to hurry business, but repeated his former statement that if business was not finished before the arrival of the King and Queen at Quebec May 15 parliament should adjourn for the duration of the Royal Visit.

Conservative Leader R. J. Manion, who previously had taken the same stand, said he had reconsidered the matter and now thought if the session did not end next week it should continue after the King and Queen left Ottawa for western Canada.

Mr. Woodsworth regarded the motion as the start of "railroad business," pushing it through without proper consideration.

No discussion had taken place on national defence. If Canada's defence position was as serious as some claimed it was Parliament should be in session all summer.

Dr. Manion said his group was prepared to co-operate. At the same time he doubted whether five or six days more were sufficient to clean up the amount of business which remained.

Dr. Manion had no objection to sitting Saturday, but he did not think that would facilitate matters enough to finish in a week without showing "unseemly haste."

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP) — An armed bandit who fired two shots in a holdup of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's general store at Anyox and escaped into the hills, with $800, was sought by British Columbia police today.

Advices from the smelter town at the head of the Portland Canal, 80 miles north of here, told of the robbery yesterday. No other details were given.

WASHINGTON (CP) — A District of Columbia national guardsman — out of uniform — caused a commotion in the Capitol grounds today when, secret service operatives said, he picked up a rifle of a soldier preparing to parade for President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua.

The man, booked as Harry Koff, 30, was arrested by police and held for the secret service. The latter directed his immediate release.

The federal operatives, who have charge of guarding the President and visiting heads of state, said the guardsman removed the firearm from a stack of rifles for the purpose of demonstrating to a friend how soldiers handle such things.

M.P.'s Debate Delay In Russian Talks

Chamberlain Denies
Britain Has Slowed
Up Discussions

LONDON (CP) — In a heated exchange across the floor of the House of Commons today, Prime Minister Chamberlain accused the Labor leaders of attempting to create the impression that the delay in negotiations with Russia on antiaggression was due entirely to the British government.

He declined to take make public details of the various proposals and counter-proposals advanced by the British and Soviet governments until final decisions were made.

At one point in the House debate the Prime Minister said the British government was not prepared "to give up our own opinion altogether or to accept without question the views of some other government."

Philip Noel Baker, Labor, observed there had been a delay since April 15, when the Soviet formula for an antiaggression bloc—a formula which never has been publicly disclosed—had been suggested, and that Britain had not yet replied.

Clement Attlee, Labor leader, followed up by asking Mr. Chamberlain if he realized "that delays and dilatory action are causing uncertainty and if I put the question down next week will he be able to give a statement?"

Mr. Chamberlain replied he did not realize that uncertainty was being created by a number of people "who are all the time suggesting that if there is any fault it must be the fault of the British government." He described that attitude as "partisan."

When William Gallagher, Communist, suggested the Prime Minister might arrange a personal contact with Joseph Stalin to expedite the negotiations, Mr. Chamberlain replied with a reference to the sudden departure from office of Maxim Litvinoff, former Commissar of Foreign Affairs of the Soviet.

Mr. Gallagher would suggest through whom such a contact might be arranged "because personalities change rather rapidly."

Corrects TCA Comment
OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, in the House of Commons yesterday corrected a statement in his budget speech about the Trans-Canada Airlines. He then said the deficit on the airlines last year was $818,000 "after interest on capital but before depreciation."

The statement should have been "after interest on capital and after depreciation," and depreciation on airlines equipment was taken on a generous scale.

No Big Shows If New Election Act Is Passed

Plan to Cut Campaign
Funds From $2 a
Voter to 20 Cents

Candidates' Relief

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OTTAWA — As if they didn't have enough to worry about in the problems of government, the politicians of Canada are facing now the practical problem of getting themselves elected again. With an over-all cost of nearly $2 per voter, it is not alone a political problem. It is a financial problem and, for many poor men, almost insoluble.

That is why a committee of the House of Commons is lying awake at night trying to find some way of reducing the enormous cost of democracy, and reducing, if it cannot eliminate, the evil of campaign funds.

The present plan is to limit the expenditure of every candidate to 20 cents for each voter on the list, and to make the penalty for exceeding this limit as severe that no one will dare to risk it.

Twenty cents will still permit the use of pretty large funds, for 5,918,207 Canadians were on the voters' list in the last federal election. This number would enable each national party to spend $1,183,641 in campaign funds and in the next election, perhaps this year, the total will be larger.

In British Columbia, under the proposed arrangement, no party could spend more than $76,423 on the basis of the 1935 voters' list. In Vancouver Centre, one of the three largest British Columbia seats, the limit per candidate would be $6,485.

CHICKEN FEED

This would cut our British Columbia elections to a fraction of their present size and glamour. In Vancouver Centre $6,485 is chicken feed, either in a federal or provincial election. In a certain famous Vancouver election which comes to mind one party spent around $100,000 and lost the seat.

The 25-cent limit, if it is adopted and enforced, thus is going to revolutionize our elections in some places. It won't hurt the candidates who are the chief victims of the present top-heavy system, but it will spell ruin for the hangers-on and it will take much of the entertainment value out of the election, for the ordinary citizen.

The ordinary citizen, of course, is the real root of the campaign fund evil. He doesn't expect to be bribed directly and will not accept money from the party machines. But he does like a good show. He revels in huge political rallies, with expensive orchestras and hothouse flowers on the stage. He expects radio broadcasts, pamphlets, handbills and generally a fierce competition for his vote as if he were doing the candidate a favor to go to the polls at all.

The unfortunate candidate has to provide this free show somehow and he turns to the party organization. The party organization has to go out and collect funds.

The electorate is never tired of complaining about the evil of campaign funds, but it won't put up money to finance campaigns itself. Only a small part of the huge cost of a national election comes out of small contributions by private citizens who believe in one policy or another. Most of the money must come from companies and rich men who expect to get something back in return. With them campaign funds are an investment.

CUT OUT AMUSEMENT

Since they have no hope of the public coming to their aid with money, the politicians are proposing the drastic method of cutting down costs and, incidentally, cutting most of the amusement out of elections in the larger centres. It is about time they did.

Look at the cost of a national election. It ran to nearly $8,000,000 in 1935 and, without legal limitation, will run to far more at the next poll.

The two old-line parties are believed to have spent about $1,250,000 each last time, a total of $2,500,000. The Reconstruction Party, the C.C.F. and independents probably spent $200,000 and individual candidates invested $1,500,000 in addition to help from party headquarters.

On top of all that, the Dominion Treasury used $2,000,000 to print voters' lists and $1,600,000 to conduct the election itself, to pay the 80,000 poll clerks, rental of polling booths and other incidentals.

The election cost at least $7,800,000, probably much more, for much money is spent secretly and cannot be checked. This means that every vote polled cost someone $1.72, a sharp increase from the cost of $1.17 in the 1930 election. It is a high price for democracy, but the public demands it. The public even expects to be taken to the polls in an automobile free.

The chief cost is in the larger cities. Country elections are generally reasonable enough, but it is quite common for a party to pour $75,000 into a big Montreal seat.

The 245 constituencies of Canada are usually split for campaign purposes into two groups. The allowance for the 91 seats east of the Ottawa river is about $650,000 for each of the major parties. The 154 seats west of the river cost about $400,000. On the average, party headquarters advance $7,100 per seat in the four eastern provinces and $2,500 in the five western provinces.

QUEBEC IS BAD SPOT

The west is modest, except in the large city seats, like those in Vancouver, where the maw of the party machine is practically bottomless. But we don't know anything about practical politics. We are innocents compared with the operators in Quebec.

There, in the large city seats, a candidate must employ from 100 to 150 workers and make his own canvas of the electors, recording the physical appearance of each so as to prevent impersonation on election day—the ancient and honored system of "telegraphing," which adds so much to the color of a Montreal poll. An organization to handle a job like that costs around $1,000 a day and in a campaign of two months it runs into real money.

No wonder party managers are slipping into Ottawa these days, trying to find out privately when the election will be held, so that they can start to get together the sinews of war. To them an election is a time of general prosperity, but to the candidates it is often a period of ruin, from which they never recover.

As Senator A. D. McRae said after he organized the Conservative victory of 1930. "Our political highway is strewn with the financial wrecks of men who have given the best years of their life to public service."

No wonder the politicians, many of them still paying off bills, gaily contracted by their managers—back in 1935, are anxious to cut down the cost. The only way to do it is to fix a limit, force a complete publication of every dollar spent by every candidate, and then jail the first party manager who hides a nickel.

If the new Election Act proposals are passed this session we shall see the beginning of a real attempt to take the dollars out of democracy. But, will the public like sane economical elections? Or will it still demand a free show?

Saanich Council

Saanich Against Platoon Change

Claims Present System
Better Than Two-platoon
Plan for Firemen

On the basis that the present set-up is within provisions of new legislation governing firemen's working operations, the Saanich Council last night declined to take any action to put into effect the two-platoon system in the municipal fire department.

The change was advocated by a delegation of the B.C. Association of Fire Fighters, represented by John Abbott and Fire Chief Fred Parkinson. The two-platoon system calls for the members of each platoon to work for 10 hours' day shift and 14 hours' night shift.

In Saanich at present there are three platoons, each working straight eight-hour shifts, giving each shift eight hours on and 16 off.

Councillor E. C. Warren, chairman of the fire and water committee, said the change would mean employment of another man, the provision of sleeping quarters for the men at the hall and the provision of uniforms. The men would want to act as fire fighters only and would seek pay restoration, he said. At present members of the fire department are engaged in various other work around the municipal yard when not on active duty or drilling.

The legal position of the council on the proposal will be considered in an interview with Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer. Reeve-Lambert, Councillor Warren and H. H. Allen, engineer, will meet the minister.

Chief Parkinson said a majority of the men favored the change from which they felt greater efficiency would result.

Licensing of pin ball and similar other games in the municipality was forbidden by unanimous resolution of the council. This action followed the announcement by Reeve-Lambert that $50 a machine had been offered as an annual license. The council felt the machines should be outlawed in the best interests of children. Stores installing these games will be subject to losing their trade licenses, it was pointed out.

A 20-foot arch, with a 32-foot span, designed by H. H. Allen, municipal engineer, will greet the King and Queen when they enter Saanich over the Gorge Bridge during their drive around Greater Victoria. Construction of the arch, at a cost of about $140, was approved by the council.

The Victoria Baseball Association was refused permission to use Hamiton Road Park for second division games on Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday afternoons during the summer. It was felt the park was too widely used for other sports at present and baseball would endanger many of the children who play there. The use of other grounds will be suggested to the association.

D. S. Purden was granted permission to construct a tearoom on Telegraph Bay Road. A similar application from Mr. and Mrs. F. Ripley, was tabled pending further report.

Permission was granted David Armstrong and Glen Hamilton to vend light refreshments from a trailer at Saanich beaches and parks during the summer, provided they took out a peddler's license.

HAHN ESTIMATES BREN DIVIDENDS

OTTAWA (CP)—Possible net profit on the two Bren machine gun contracts, the Canadian for 7,000 guns and the British for 5,000 guns, held by the John Inglis Company Limited, Toronto, is 28 45 cents yearly on each of 250,000 shares, Major James Hahn, president of the company, told the Commons public accounts committee yesterday.

The committee, investigating the Canadian contract, was asked by Major Hahn to make a finding "as to your impressions as to the efficiency of the organization."

Under terms of the Canadian contract $267,000 was the maximum profit that could be earned. Income taxes would make a profit of $224,280. This spread over the period of the contract, 5 1/2 years, would amount to 17 cents a share annually. Taking the two contracts together, the possible net maximum profit would be $378,000, or 28 45 cents a share.

KITCHENER (CP)—Fifty representatives of anti-Nazi German-Canadian organizations in Canada will meet here in a national convention May 13 to 14. RESERVE DECISION IN CHESWORTH CASE

Instructions to counsel to provide further written argument on legal points were given by Mr. Justice Manson in Supreme Court yesterday as hearing of the second action brought by Peter Chesworth against the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway ended. Judgment was reserved.

The action is for unstated damages for the death of Mrs. Mary Jane Chesworth, wife of the plaintiff and for severe injury to Mr. Chesworth. It arises from the fatal crash, at the Colwood level crossing, where a freight train struck an automobile carrying the Chesworth party on August 21, 1937.

The action was dismissed by a special jury at the first trial, and a second action was permitted following granting of an appeal.

START EARLY ON BOULEVARD WORK

Boulevard watering in the city will start next week, owing to the dryness of the season, the city parks committee decided at its meeting yesterday afternoon.

A recommendation for an immediate start on the work of keeping the strips green will be made to the City Council at its next meeting.

The committee considered further reports on vandalism in the parks, left undecided the application of the Victoria and District Softball Association for use of Macdonald Park, following protests from the Victoria Rugby Union, decided to inform Vancouver it could not provide a female swimmer for the Terminal City until next year and filed a report requested by Alderman B. J. Gadsden on the duties of the pound-keeper.

F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, informed the board Pioneer Square was still the property of the provincial government, the city having failed to make application for that tract under terms of a 1908 act. An application to bring the park under city jurisdiction would be made in the immediate future, Alderman S. H. Okell, chairman of the parks committee, stated.

RINGS NOT GUIDE TO AGE OF TREES

ALPINE, Texas. (AP)—The discovery that the number of its rings is like trying to tell a woman's age by her looks was announced yesterday by the southwestern division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The discovery upsets one of man's oldest beliefs that trees put on one ring each year. Trees were discovered in Texas that put on five a year. Hardly any were found that failed to add at least two annually.

The discovery was reported by Dr. W. S. Glock and Dr. E. L. Reed of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas.

Weather maps indicated the reason for the extra rings. It appeared that a tree lays down a completed ring whenever its water supply runs low, and starts a new one when it gets rain again. This accounted for several appearing in one year in the recent dust bowl drought.

LONDON (AP)—Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, denied in the House of Commons yesterday that Great Britain planned "to pursue a policy of deflation."

He spoke in apparent reference to the fact that the government plans to borrow at least $358,000,000 (currently about $1,618,870,000) to finance its huge rearmament budget for the fiscal year 1939-40.

C.P.R. Requested to State Plans Plainly

C.N.R. President Says Possible Unification Savings Overestimated

OTTAWA (CP)—In a written submission presented yesterday to the special committee of the Senate which is studying the railway problem, S. J. Hungerford, president of the Canadian National Railways, declared he was as skeptical of the prospect of $59,740,000 savings under unification, based on 1937 operations, as he had been of the $75,000,000 indicated by Canadian Pacific Railway executives, on 1930 operations.

"In my judgment, based upon extensive experience in consolidation of railway properties it is entirely fallacious to look to savings of such proportions as being possible of attainment," said Mr. Hungerford.

The $75,000,000 estimate had been submitted to the Duff commission in 1931 and was founded on contemplated abandonment of 5,000 miles of line. Economies from that source had been placed at $16,366,000 a year. Examination of the plan last year by the Senate committee had demonstrated the projected abandonments "are totally impracticable," Mr. Hungerford said.

"The conclusion is inescapable that the same degree of impracticability would be found to apply to much else of what was proposed to be done by the C.P.R. if its details were known," he added. "Evidently these measures are of drastic nature since the reason given by the C.P.R. officers for refusing to disclose them is that such action would be opposed to the interests of the C.P.R. due to the anticipated resentment of the communities affected."

INFORMATION DENIED

Mr. Hungerford asked why the C.P.R. continued to refuse disclosure of its plans if, as the railway executives had stated, the proposals "will mean improved service at less cost."

"Why should not the communities affected be told what is contemplated?" he asked. It would then be possible to judge whether the opinion of the C.P.R. officers as to what constitutes adequate service to the country would be in accord with the views of industry and of the communities affected.

To apply C.P.R. unit costs, in order to arrive at the $75,000,000 to C.N.R. operations was fallacious, Mr. Hungerford said. He continued:

"I have expressed my views as to the unsoundness, inaccuracy and impracticability of the Canadian Pacific estimate. I also desire to express my profound conviction that an attempted solution of the railway problem, based on an expectation of the realizability of savings of this magnitude, would be doomed to failure because savings of anything approaching these figures can not be obtained if due regard is had to consideration of public interest."

"This is the final and conclusive test of practicability and is the test applied by public authority before consent is given to line abandonments or to the degradation of services to the public."

LOSS OF WAGES

"Another important factor as affecting public interests is the undoubted fact that drastic reduction in railway service carries with it drastic reductions in railway payrolls. Inasmuch as 60 per cent of railway operating expenses are for direct labor, at least $40,000,000 in the estimate of $75,000,000 would be represented by reductions in payrolls, which, accompanying the drastic reduction in service, would further adversely affect the communities."

"Public interest can never be reduced to the confines of an estimate prepared by railway technicians however expert they be, but, on the contrary, must necessarily be determined by public authority," said Mr. Hungerford. "I again allude to the refusal of the C.P.R. to tell the committee and the country just what is contemplated to be done as affecting specific communities and specific services."

"I am satisfied that such an ex-

COMMONS SPEEDS WHEAT MEASURES

Members Act Quickly
On Bills, Hoping
For Early Prorogation

OTTAWA (CP)—The government's wheat legislation, expected to provide one of the major debates of the session, is speeding along under the prospect of prorogation of Parliament by the King.

First of a series of wheat bills, that aiding co-operative marketing of wheat, was given second and third reading by the Commons yesterday. A parallel bill to promote the co-operative marketing of other farm produce was given second reading and went partially through the committee stage.

This afternoon the House took up the task of completing its deliberations over that bill, disposing of a few Senate amendments to bills originating in the Commons, and then going on to debate the two biggest wheat bills, providing an acreage bonus and empowering the Canadian wheat board to pay an initial price of 70 cents a bushel, basis No. 1 northern at Fort William.

The wheat bill approved yesterday provides government backing for co-operative wheat agencies, guaranteeing an initial payment of 60 cents a bushel on all wheat delivered to such agencies. This is an arrangement distinct from that proposed for the Wheat Board.

The bill is called bill 82. Its operation, Agriculture Minister Gardiner believed, combined with that of the acreage bonus bill, would over a period of years place the one-cash-crop western wheat farmers more nearly on a cash basis than they had been in the past and would improve both the marketing of wheat and the financing of western agriculture.

Boy Debaters Win High School Cup

Beta Delta, the boys' debating society, was victorious over Portia in the annual debate for the Portia Cup, held yesterday at Victoria High School. The cup was held last year by Portia.

The subject "Resolved: that Wealth be Conscripted in War," proved an interesting topic. Donald Fields and Jim Kearney of the Beta Delta upheld the affirmative and Brenda Smith and Agnes Proudfoot of Portia took the negative. The three judges, P. E. George, F. Paulding and Miss E. Hart, were unanimous in awarding the decision to Beta Delta.

Mr. George, after announcing the verdict, gave a few pointers to the students on debating and commended Jim Kearney on his excellent showing. All of the debaters spoke well, but Kearney outshone the others.

The chairman of the meeting was Jim Proudfoot and the timekeeper Jim Pickford, both members of the Beta Delta.

Stopping Hitler

NO SOONER HAD THE WORLD learned from Poland's Colonel Beck that peaceful negotiation of the Danzig area and Polish Corridor questions was still open to Germany than the British government announced it had accepted Soviet Russia's proposal to form a British-French-Russian military alliance, coupled with the offer of a supplementary plan for supporting Poland and Roumania.

Even from the quickly-moving events of the last 36 hours it is possible to extract the plain intimation that if Germany moves her army into any territory which does not belong to her it must be prepared to meet resistance against which it can be no match. In calm and restrained language Colonel Beck told the Polish Parliament today that there is only one thing in the life of men and nations which is without price—"that is honor." It is for the head of the Nazi state to weigh this well in the light of the announcement from the British capital, which, incidentally, is a striking and unexpected sequel to the "retirement" of Maxim Litvinoff as Soviet Commissar for Foreign Affairs.

As this is written it is impossible to look far into the future. It is nevertheless safe to say that if there shall be no further hitch in the "arrangement" between Great Britain, France and Russia, the prospect for new efforts to deal in a practical fashion with the realities of these times—without trying to settle them by fighting—may be brighter than at any stage since the dark days of last September.

We may be guilty of too much optimism, perhaps, in suggesting that Herr Hitler now sees the writing on the wall, that he is beginning to understand that against which he many times has been warned—that the peace-loving peoples of the world are still in the majority and are determined to retain that position and all it implies. What the Nazi chief does about it in his own country, how he will eventually explain to his own folk why the rest of the world now looks upon Germany as the bad boy in the family of nations, is a matter for him to work out himself.

Today's developments, even though uncertainty may surround some of the information which the dispatches seek to convey, indicate beyond peradventure that the "Stop Hitler" plan has succeeded in preventing Nazi troops from capitalizing aggressively the Hitlerian technique which for months has been assiduously applied in the Danzig section and throughout the Polish Corridor—or, as Colonel Beck in his speech to Parliament insists, in the "Province of Pomerania." Germany now knows what her eastern neighbor thinks of the renunciation of the German-Polish 10-year nonaggression pact, also how she can deal with the existing problems, and how she can meet the future.

Today's developments, moreover, mark another step in the general exposure of the totalitarian scheme and discount the lugubrious prediction that democracy already had entered the final phase of its eclipse. At the risk of forcing the pace, it may yet be said that when Berlin and Rome conceived their famous "axis" the heads of the two European authoritarian states erected the mill that will slowly grind their system to dust.

The most significant of the new developments, of course, is the apparent tripartite military alliance which is to reassemble the chief European allies of the Great War in the same camp. Germany and other nations may say what they like about Russia, foam at the mouth as they will because her system of government does not appeal to them, but the fact remains that they can not charge her with aggression. She has been attending strictly to her own business. And it was the Maxim Litvinoff who has just retired from the international diplomatic scene who proposed practical disarmament at the Disarmament Conference more than seven years ago. Soviet Russia—perhaps we ought to say it with our fingers crossed—may yet be the determining agency in strengthening democracy.

Human Tides Turn

DISPATCHES FROM NORTHERN ONTARIO say that considerable numbers of German-born artisans are leaving this country and returning to the Reich to work in armament factories. A few years ago even larger numbers of foreign-born workmen were leaving the same districts to work as technicians for the Soviet in the Five Year Plan of industrialization in Russia. Statistics published in London show that in recent years Great Britain has been bringing back to her shores more of her sons and daughters than she has been sending out. As some officials describe it: "Britain is now an importer and not an exporter of population." All these facts are evidence of a general change in the direction of the human tides. Canada may well do some careful thinking as a result.

In the United States the effects of this phenomenon are already making themselves felt. As Stuart Chase points out, "there are more than a million empty desks in our elementary schools this year." Whereas between 1900 and 1913 about a million additional newcomers entered the United States each year, there is now an excess of 50,000 persons per year who leave the country as compared as with the total number entering. British birth rates are also falling. In 1875 one new baby arrived each year to every seventh family. By 1935 this had fallen to one baby for every 12 families. Lower death rates, however, have postponed the more drastic effect of these changes.

United States economists foresee thorny difficulties as a result of the new conditions. Mr. Chase sums up: "The outstanding economic problem of the next few decades will be to remodel an economic system geared for expansion so that it can operate in a community which grows slowly or not at all." Whether or not the prophecies prove correct as to future trends, present facts are inescapable. Human tides have turned, for a variety of reasons. No country, least of all Canada, should ignore these changes.

Attending His Majesty

PREMIER HEPBURN OF ONTARIO HAS resumed his vendetta with Prime Minister Mackenzie King. He now declares in the Ontario Legislature that Mr. King in his plan to accompany the King and Queen across Canada is seeking "cheap publicity." He thinks Lord Tweedsmuir the proper person to make the trip. Mr. Hepburn appears ignorant of the fact that whenever the King travels he is accompanied by a "minister in attendance." It is fitting that Mr. King should take the assignment himself while His Majesty is in Canada, because, as Prime Minister, he is the one member of the cabinet who adequately represents the country as a whole. Besides holding the portfolio of state, external relations are his particular responsibility.

This latest of Mr. Hepburn's outbreaks is so obviously childish and spiteful that Mr. Hepburn's home town paper, the St. Thomas Times-Journal, turns to take him to task. As it points out, it would be utterly out of place for the Governor-General to travel with His Majesty, for the Governor-General represents the King's person when the King is not present. That is why the Governor-General is at Ottawa. It would be absurd for the King's representative to travel with the King. A principal and an understudy do not appear in the same parts on the same stage together. The Prime Minister is not the King's representative. He is the representative of His Majesty's ministers. To say that attendance upon His Majesty in a constitutional capacity is productive of "cheap" publicity is to cast a slur on the dignity of the Royal office itself.

Importing Caterpillars

HOW DOES THIS SOUND TO THE MANY visitors who are in Victoria for Spring Gardens Week?—Sixty-five live caterpillars are to be sent by an Imperial Airways flying boat from England to Australia! It is difficult to imagine any country wanting to import these little fellows; certainly Victoria gardeners have no love for them. But this consignment is going to Australia for a definite purpose, and have been carefully selected, we presume for their voracity, by the Imperial Institute of Entomology.

Some Australian scientist has suggested as an experiment the importation of caterpillars, in the hope that they will keep down the growth of the weed St. John's Wort, which Australian farmers find destructive to their land. But experiments may be dangerous. The mongoose was introduced into Jamaica to clear the sugar cane fields of snakes and rats, but eventually became a plague by destroying poultry and harmless animals. The Australians, too, have had a bitter lesson from the introduction of a few tame rabbits as pets about a century ago. They multiplied so rapidly and proved so destructive that farmers have made, in vain, many efforts to exterminate them. The outlay on rabbit destruction has amounted to millions sterling, and still they cannot be kept down. The same may happen with the caterpillar. These insects seem to suffer from insatiable hunger, and their ravages are enormous. It has been calculated that one caterpillar consumes in one day 1,000 times its own weight of green food. Perhaps the Australian farmers later on will realize that it would have been better to tear up the obnoxious weed than to import caterpillars to eat it. Nature often disapproves of short cuts.

Movies do yield public benefits at times. Witness the case of "Gunga Din." Now we know how to pronounce it.

Scientists are trying to induce hens to lay eggs with colorless yolks. That would give the bride some new recipe enigmas.

A ROYAL FLUSH WINS

From Ottawa Journal

Life has long been compared to a card game. Just now there certainly seems to be something in the idea. It is especially apparent to one who ever sat in a game where the good faith of all the players was not entirely beyond question. Over in Europe there is a game going on in which the stakes include more than money. Lives, peoples, and lands are piled in the centre of the table. Blue chips at times have been stacked like leaning Towers of Pisa, the white ones being too numerous to count. The man who had the biggest winnings at the start is no longer sure where he will be at the end of the session. Provided he is properly superstitious, he is secretly worried, knowing well that bluff cannot always succeed, and in the end is sure to be called.

The old game of poker is not as popular today as when it was one of America's most important he-man amusements. But a lot of old-timers must find a resemblance between the autocrats who would run or ruin this modern world and those who once could pretend contentment when the best they held was not enough to open a jackpot.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON
OTTAWA.

TROUBLES OF THE WEST

THE WEATHER in the west is reported as promising for agriculture. For politicians it is the most severe spring since they started to keep records.

Out of the west now a young hurricane is blowing across Parliament Hill, threatening to remove many statesmen entirely from the scene at the next election. And it grows stronger, colder, every day.

The whole thing is very simple when you strip the party politics from it.

The whole prairie region has been unable to sell its grain at a profit, on the basis of present production costs, and it has only survived of recent years by enormous contributions from the federal treasury.

This has satisfied nobody. The west has not received enough to compensate it for the drop in wheat prices and the east, through such leaders as Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Duplessis, has protested that it cannot afford to hand out charity indefinitely to the farmers.

The only real solution for the west, of course, is to sell its crop at a larger price or to reduce the cost of producing it through a reduction in the tariff. The first solution depends on world conditions beyond Canada's control. The second solution the east refuses to accept.

FARMERS' BONUS

THIS BASIC DIFFICULTY of Confederation has come to focus in the present efforts of the government to provide for further bonusing of the western farmers. For weeks now western politicians, farmers and grain operators have been here paying siege to the government, demanding a larger subsidy from the nation than the government is willing to pay.

The government started by offering to guarantee a wheat price of 60 cents a bushel, with a bonus for farmers who had no crop. The west demanded 80 cents, as last year. The government countered with an offer of 70 cents minus the bonus for cropless farmers. At this writing no agreement has been possible. Western Liberal members are insisting that the government be more generous and in practical politics there is the very devil to pay.

It is reported now the government will avoid an immediate difficulty by postponing a decision and fixing no guaranteed price until the crop begins to roll in next August. If it stands then by its refusal to exceed 70 cents you may take that as a sign there will be no election this year. There certainly will be no election until the west has been placated. It would be far too dangerous for western Liberals.

There is more to it than a temporary fight over grain subsidies. The real leaders of the prairies who have been here lately say that there has got to be a permanent solution and the only solution they can see is a reduction in the tariff, which would reduce the farmer's cost of living and farming.

EAST AND WEST AGAIN

THEY ARE BITTERLY discouraged by the apparent attitude of the east, which they blame for much of their trouble. From Hepburn and Duplessis comes no sign that the east is alive to the desperate condition of the whole prairie economy. On the contrary, the premiers of the two central provinces seem more hostile to western aspirations than ever.

The thing which is bringing the fundamental issue to a head is the position of the prairie governments. Alberta has been long in default. Saskatchewan has only narrowly escaped default, and Manitoba faces large maturities during the next few years. Premier Bracken has never sought to disguise the fact that, failing some adjustment of the present financial structure, his province cannot go on carrying its present debt.

So Ottawa is told that if something basic is not done to save the west, provincial governments out there will face a crisis during the next few years and this cannot fail to damage the national credit. The federal government, however, has stoutly resisted this warning and insists that its own credit stands entirely separate from that of any province. It was on the basis of this reasoning that it refused to bail out Alberta and Saskatchewan, and has lately cut down on British Columbia.

The only thing that is preventing a showdown now on the whole problem is the existence of the Rowell Commission. On it all hopes for a final settlement are based, but should it fail to produce a solution there is bound to be a more serious clash between the west and the east.

THIS PROVINCE'S POSITION

IN THIS FIGHT British Columbia occupies a unique position. It is demanding more help from Ottawa, but it is not eager to join with the prairies. Premier Pattullo's first act on taking office in the fall of 1933 was to call the three prairie premiers into conference to plan a common front in the west, but he dropped that idea and since then has insisted that British Columbia must not involve itself in any way in the economic and political problems of its neighbors.

He has urged all through the Rowell Commission inquiry and at interprovincial conferences that British Columbia must stand alone because its problems are different from those of its neighbors.

Right now you would say Confederation was in for some of the gravest stresses that it has ever felt, but larger events could easily intervene. Federal politicians just cannot get excited about a domestic issue, however grave, while the peace of the world hangs in the balance.

GAY'S "IMMORALITY"

To the Editor:—I was interested in reading an article on page 8 of April 29th (Saturday magazine edition) and noting a passing reference to the opera "Love in a Village," in an article written by Reby Edmond McDonald. I had pleasure in recalling this event as I was one who took part in this production. I looked up my scrap book and found the write-ups of this opera which appeared in the press of those days. In doing this I ascertained that of the 19 people who took part, which included an orchestra of three, only four are at present in the land of the living, viz: myself, Mrs. Edward White, Miss Thain, and Mrs. Ross Monro, who was at that time Miss Franklin.

The objection that was taken to putting on "The Beggar's Opera," was quite right, and the lady who made this objection was Miss Sally Redfern, a sister of the late C. E. Redfern, a jeweler for many years in this city and one time mayor of the city. Miss Redfern made objections—owing to what was considered in those days the immorality of the opera, and sustained her objections, and the other opera was then chosen as the first local amateur production. Miss Redfern later on went to London, and was on the stage there for some years.

The opera was produced in June, 1880.

PROPERTY VALUES

To the Editor:—Col. Brooke Stephenson has opened the question of property values to which there are many sides, including that of the taxpayer. The real estate men have never been an unmixt blessing, responsible for two major booms and their aftermath, and not forgetting their share in the 1910-11 episode when, not content with a steady increase in values, the Real Estate Board, regardless of the strong objection of the then mayor and of Wm. Northcott, the assessor, a man of long experience and sound judgment, prevailed upon a sympathetic council to allow two of their leaders to give the assessment roll an extra boost in values over the assessor's head. Mr. Northcott's sound judgment against this unwarranted intrusion on his authority was, "That a city's status was more jeopardized by having to lower values from too high an assessment than from maintaining a more conservative or normal valuation." The results have proved whether he or the Real Estate Board were right. A happy medium is the only safe course.

The real estate dealers are not alone responsible for reverted lots and low values. Mayor McGavin in his remarks on the tax situation, for which he claims a three year steady improvement, ended as follows: "Property values are increasing steadily." Is the mayor unaware of what is going on, that two days prior to his oration the city reported the sale of a lot on Blackwood Street between Montrose and Seaview, the block in which his fine new home is situated, for the sum of $150. This is a prominent paved and built up street of which the inside lots are assessed at about $580, and on which owners have been paying taxes, plus local improvement costs, for many years. Does this and many similar cases of murdering lot values bear out the mayor's contention? Is not the city in its crude attempts to bring reverted properties back into taxation, discouraging more and ever more property owners from paying taxes on property the value of which the city is steadily killing. It implies that the city sells no more lots at less than their assessed value or that the whole assessment roll be lowered to the actual sale value set by the city.

Generous Response To Linen Shower

Orphanage Given
$59 Cash and
246 Pieces Yesterday

Cash donations amounting to $59 and 246 pieces of linen rewarded the appeal of the B.C. Protestant Orphans' Home at the annual linen shower held yesterday afternoon at the Hillside Avenue institution.

The entrance halls and dining-room were bright with spring flowers. In the office Mrs. W. Dinsmore, Mrs. E. M. Brown and Mrs. J. G. Simpson received the linen donations, and Mrs. F. C. Dillabough received the cash. Mrs. F. V. Longstaff, president of the committee, and other members welcomed the many friends who called during the afternoon.

Mrs. Walter Luney and Mrs. R. T. Elliott presided at the tea table, which was centered with a silver bowl of mauve and white lilac, narcissi and tulips, and matching candles. Assisting in serving tea were Miss Newbury, Miss Murray, Mrs. Redman, Mrs. J. W. King and Mrs. Walter Coutes.

During the afternoon the visitors were taken round the home and admired the many improvements carried out, both inside and out, during the past few months. New floors in the playroom, sportsroom, and girls' dormitory, new linoleum in the boys' dormitory, improvements in the bedrooms, and new furnishings in the matron's room all add to the appearance and comfort of the home. The visitors were also interested in seeing the laundry, which has been newly painted, the elder boys having done excellent work in painting the woodwork.

It has been estimated that it takes $37 a year to teach a pupil in the elementary grades, and $145 a year in public high school.

Provincial Delegates Presented Report

Members of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. M. Pillar, Hampshire Road, for their regular meeting. Mrs. A. S. Christie, regent, gave a comprehensive report of the Provincial I.O.D.E. meeting held recently in Vancouver. Mrs. Pillar read a poem written by Mrs. A. M. Wolverton, the Provincial Standard Bearer, and read at the provincial meeting. Mrs. Christie and Mrs. Pillar were delegates to the meeting and were warmly thanked for representing the Chapter so well.

The secretary was asked to write a letter of sympathy to the family of the late Mrs. Dolly Higgins, a grand-daughter of Sir James Douglas, who passed away recently.

Emergency service cards were handed to each of the members, the response being very satisfactory. A donation was voted to be sent to Pouce Coupe to help the women establish a civic centre for women while visiting from rural districts. Mrs. H. Goodfellow announced that donations for the rummage sale will be called for. The sale is to be on May 10 at the corner of Johnson and Broad Streets. The garden party date will be announced later by the convener, Mrs. Bertha Parsons. Several committees have been arranged to assist in making the party a success.

Margaret Douglas Bowden was received as a new member of the Chapter. Mrs. P. C. Hayward gave her postponed talk to the Chapter, for which she was thanked. Miss Georgina Herd gave the treasurer's report and also the Echoes' secretary's report for Miss Crease. Mrs. S. W. Pottinger gave the educational secretary's report.

The hostess and her daughter, Miss J. C. Robinson Pillar, entertained the members and guests with tea. Mrs. Christie thanked the hostesses for their kind hospitality.

PARKDALE Y.P.S.

The Young People's Society of Parkdale Sunday School met at the home of Mrs. M. Scott, 3229 Irme Street, on Tuesday evening. The devotional period took the form of a Bible questionnaire. Later games were played and refreshments served by the social committee.

Jubilee Graduation Is Unforgettable Picture

Beautiful Ceremony at Royal Victoria Theatre Last Night; Bursaries and Prizes Presented Before Capacity Audience

In a setting of unusual beauty and before an audience which packed the Royal Victoria Theatre, the 1939 class of the Royal Jubilee Hospital nursing school, last night held its graduation exercises, and 48 young girls were launched upon what speakers described as a "noble profession."

BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS

The front and sides of the proscenium were banked with row upon row of baskets and bouquets of lovely flowers, the gifts to the graduates from their friends. The graduates, each carrying the sheaf of red and white carnations tied with red and white ribbons, the gift of the Senior Woman's Auxiliary, and wearing their snowy uniforms and caps, being seated in tiers on the stage. On either side of them were red steps, flanked by white pillars strung with red and white ribbons, each pillar topped with a beautiful basket of flowers. On the backdrop curtain was imposed the emblem of the hospital, a huge silver Maltese cross bearing the letters "R. J. H." in glittering red letters, completing a picture of striking beauty.

Seated in front of the graduating class were F. E. Winslow, president of the Jubilee Hospital board of directors; Dr. T. W. Walker, medical superintendent of the hospital, and Miss A. F. Mitchell, R.N., director of nursing; Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, who delivered the invocation; Judge P. S. Lampman, who gave the address to the graduating class; W. S. Day, who came over from Vancouver to present the Robert S. and Patience Day Memorial Scholarship, and S. J. Drake, chairman of the training-school committee.

DIPLOMAS PRESENTED

Dr. T. W. Walker, medical superintendent, and Miss A. F. To the accompaniment of much applause, bursaries and prizes were announced and presented to the following: The Robert S. and Patience Day memorial scholarship, won by Florence Edna Scoble, presented, on behalf of the donors, by W. S. Day; the Jubilee Hospital Alumnae scholarship of $100, presented by Mrs. J. H. Russell, the alumnae president, to Margaret Wallbank.

S. J. Waites with the Dr. E. W. Boak prize for highest marks in examination on orthopedics; and Ethel Ellis with the Dr. T. Miller prize for highest marks in examination on preventive medicine.

BUILDING CAMPAIGN
Announcement of a contemplated campaign to raise $150,000 to provide a much-needed addition to the hospital.

tion for the accommodation of children's ward, new kitchens and more bed space was made by Mr. Winslow, the chairman, in his address. He recalled that the foundation stone of the hospital was laid 50 years ago, and as the original hospital commemorated the jubilee of Queen Victoria, so this year's campaign would serve to commemorate the coming Royal visit.

The chairman conveyed the regrets of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber, who were unable to attend but sent greetings and good wishes to the graduating class. He also recalled the visit of the Governor-General and Lady Tweedsmuir to the hospital a few weeks ago, and the gift of their signed photograph, which now adorns the hospital corridor. Mr. Winslow noted that the capital investment represented in the institution was about $1,200,000; the cost per diem of operating the hospital was about $1,000. Thanks were expressed to the many organizations, auxiliary to the board and otherwise, which had given such valuable help; and special appreciation was expressed to the medical superintendent, the director of nursing, and the capable staff.

JUDGE LAMPMAN

Judge Lampman addressed the graduating class, recalling some of his reminiscences of the Jubilee Hospital of 40 years ago, and commending the tradition it had built up for efficient service. He gave them some amusing but excellent advice and wished them every success in their chosen career, whether that turned out to be a nursing or a domestic career.

Mrs. T. H. Johns beautifully sang the "One Fine Day" aria from "Mme. Butterfly" and an encore number, accompanied at the piano by Miss Maquinna Daniels.

The class valedictorian was Miss Joyce Laurie, who at the close of her graceful little address, presented beautiful bouquets of flowers to Miss Mitchell and Miss G. M. Currie, assistant directress of nursing.

The ceremony closed with the repetition by the class of the Florence Nightingale pledge, and the playing of the national anthem by the orchestra.

GERMANY EXPELS ENGLISHWOMAN

Barbara Henman,
London Telegraph
Secretary, Ordered Out

BERLIN (AP)—Miss Barbara Henman, English secretary in the Berlin office of the London Daily Telegraph, received an order last night to leave Germany within 14 days.

Today the British embassy was inquiring into the order, for which no reason was given. She has been in the Daily Telegraph bureau here since February, 1938.

Hugh Carleton Green, chief of the Daily Telegraph bureau, and five other Britons were ordered Wednesday to leave Germany in reprisal for the Expulsion of Germans from Britain.

Miss Henman was not the first woman to be involved in Nazi expulsion orders issued thus far against 22 foreign correspondents.

In 1934 Mrs. Sinclair Lewis, who writes under her maiden name of Dorothy Thompson, left Germany, having been ordered to depart within 24 hours because of the alleged hostile attitude toward Germany in her writings.

Empire Loyalist Leader in City

Mrs. Colin Campbell
Honored for Her
Voluntary Service

Mrs. Colin Campbell, O.B.E., of the National Council, United Empire Loyalist Association of Canada, and patroness of the Winnipeg branch, is a visitor to Victoria.

The Order of the British Empire was conferred upon Mrs. Campbell at the silver jubilee of King George V in recognition of her 50 years of voluntary service. She has the distinguished reputation of having raised more money than any other woman in Canada for hospitals and fighting the tuberculous scourge.

Largely through her efforts, the I.O.D.E. established in 1909 the Ninette Sanatorium, the first private and semi-private institution of its kind in Canada, in Manitoba. She was also prominently identified with the raising of a fund of $500,000 for the I.O.D.E. National War Memorial, a "living memorial" to Canada's heroic dead.

FAMOUS WOMEN

Mrs. Campbell is the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Margaret Buck, one of five famous Canadian women whose husbands were kidnapped by the rebels of 1777 and who suffered terrible privations at Standwix, Mohawk Valley, Pennsylvania.

The other women were Mrs. Secord, mother-in-law of Laura Secord; Mrs. Nelles, Mrs. Bowman and Mrs. Young. Niagara was the war front in those stirring days. Some idea of the privations which these brave women survived can be gained when it is understood that they had only one pair of shoes between them, and Mrs. Bowman, with a baby five days old, was allowed the use of a blanket. They would have perished had not the friendly Indians taken care of them.

After wandering aimlessly for an interminable time, these women traveled down the Niagara River by a boat supplied by the Indians, and by way of Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River, eventually reached Lachine, Quebec.

Philip Buck, Mrs. Campbell's grandfather, who was later held prisoner in the Red Rebellion, was born at Lachine. Mrs. Campbell remembers seeing him at the age of 90 when she was but three years old.

BORN IN PALERMO

Mrs. Campbell's birthplace is Palermo, Halton County, Ont., her father being Anson Buck, M.D., M.R.C.S., Eng. He was a graduate of the Royal School of Medicine, Toronto; Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, and the Royal College of Surgeons in England. His name is one of 300 prominent Canadians mentioned in "The Dossier Biography of Canadian Men," by Sir Charles Roberts. Also he had the distinction of building the first cement bridge in Canada in 1905, at Trafalgar, Ont., when he was reeve of the Ontario township.

Mrs. Campbell, who is staying at the Empress Hotel, will go to Vancouver to address the United Empire Loyalists at a banquet May 18. Yesterday she was the guest of the Victoria Rotary Club at luncheon.

Drive Ambulances In Black-out In London

Intrepid Women
Getting Ready
For Emergencies

From MATHILDE
(Times Correspondent)

LONDON—I really must raise my hat—or rather, my gas mask—to those intrepid women drivers of the London Volunteer Ambulance Service. Having heard about the 2,500 women who have now been trained, I decided to find out for myself how they drive and what their duties would be in the event of war.

So the other night, after dark, I joined a batch of very attractive-looking girls—with their gasmasks neatly packed in knapsacks fastened on to their chests—in Battersea Park, where they practice night-driving once a week. The drivers, wearing their gas masks, have to pilot ambulances without any lights at all—not an easy task but, as I soon found out, one that they were able to perform with the utmost ease!

"AT THE ALERT"

I clambered into the front seat of the leading ambulance with my gasmask "at the alert"—that is, with the straps unfastened, ready to slip on at a given signal, and away we roared into the darkness. My companion—a business girl who works all day and who gives up her spare time willingly in the evenings—drove admirably and took the various bends and turns as confidently as if the headlights were on.

The ambulances, which are lent by the London County Council for these instruction classes, are all 10 years old with heavy and difficult gears and steering, so if these women can drive them efficiently it is calculated that they will be able to take out any of the various lorries which will be commandeered in time of war.

Next we donned our gas masks and once more encircled the park. Special preparation had been smear on to the unbreakable eyepieces of my mask so that my breath would not cloud the glass, but I must say that, although I could see fairly well, it was a stuffy business and I should not want to wear one for too long at a stretch.

The L.C.C. superintendent, who is in charge of these classes, agreed with me that these girls are excellent pupils, are eager and quick to learn and they obey commands promptly. I noticed especially their air of camaraderie, their smartness and, above all, their ability to handle any make of car.

MUST BE EXPERTS

"Do you have to turn down any candidates?" I asked. "A few," was the reply, "as occasionally women who have only driven baby cars volunteer and they are quite unable to cope with heavy vehicles. We do not expect to teach people to drive; we want expert drivers whom we can train to the standard we require." I was also informed that although 2,500 women drivers have been enrolled in London, 17,000 are needed altogether. This number includes 13,000 ambulance drivers and 4,000 private car owners. The latter would be wanted for sitting casualties.

Two Bank Robberies In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two Los Angeles banks were robbed in rapid succession yesterday of an estimated total of $9,000.

While one of their number menaced 23 employees and customers, including five girls, with a long pearl-handled knife, four bandits escaped with $8,000 from the Yokohama Specie Bank in the Japanese district.

Two hours later, two men robbed a Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank branch of approximately $1,000.

I pay tribute to the splendid work of the Salvation Army and wish you every success."

KIPLING SOCIETY

"Some Childhood Memories of Rudyard Kipling," a paper written by Mrs. A. M. Fleming, sister of the noted author, was read to the members of the Victoria Kipling Society by Miss B. M. Carlisle at their meeting on Wednesday evening. This interesting article dealt first with Kipling's early life in England. It was from this period that he drew many incidents related in his autobiographical story, "Baa-Baa Black Sheep." Following was a description of a holiday spent with his cousin, Stanley Baldwin, now Earl Baldwin, and late Prime Minister of England. Mrs. D. C. F. McArthur read two poems: "The Ducky Crew," from "Schoolboy Lyrics," and "The Cat That Walked by Itself," from "Just So Stories." A short article, "Kipling Was No Critic," from John O'London, was read by Mrs. W. J. Neal.

Two members of the society, Mr. and Mrs. H. Trueman, have lately left Victoria for a visit to England, where they hope to meet the members of the central society and attend the annual luncheon which is held in London in June.

Opposition Will Not Be Changed

If Telford Votes
C.C.F., Conservatives
Still Opposition

Humors in Vancouver that the C.C.F. would be named the Opposition at the next session of the House, because of Mrs. Laura Jantzen's election in Vancouver Centre Monday, were discounted by local politicians today.

At the last session the Conservatives had eight members, because of the return to the fold of R. W. Bruhn, for some years an independent member. The C.C.F. had seven. Since his election as mayor of Vancouver, however, Dr. Lyle Telford resigned from the C.C.F. and will sit in the House as an independent, with strong C.C.F. leanings. So that leaves the parties as they were last session.

Had Dr. Telford not resigned, the Conservatives and C.C.F. would both have had eight members and Premier Pattullo would have been forced to name the Opposition. Had this been necessary, it is felt the Premier would have chosen the Conservatives, because they were members of an older party and one that has had experience in government.

In Vancouver, however, C.C.F. members are figuring on the support of Mayor Telford and Thomas Uphill, Labor member of Fernie, who often votes C.C.F., but not always. With this in mind there is mention on the mainland that Harold Winch, youthful C.C.F. member for Vancouver East and C.C.F. whip at the last session, may be named C.C.F. leader and then leader of the Opposition, replacing R. L. Maitland, K.C.

"We are the actual Opposition," Mr. Winch said, when questioned in Vancouver on the matter. "I feel we deserve recognition as the official Opposition, both on grounds of our voting power in the Legislature and for our work."

There will be a C.C.F. convention in Vancouver in June, when it may be decided to rescind the clause in the constitution that says no member may have two elected positions at the one time, thus releasing Dr. Telford from his resignation from the party. Election of Mr. Winch as House leader of the C.C.F. may also be made at the convention.

GOOD SUPPORT FOR SELF-DENIAL

The Salvation Army reports a generous response to its self-denial appeal so far, and presents Dominion statistics which will give some idea of the work which engages the heart, hand and mind of those who have given themselves to this work: Homes for women and girls, 35; women and girls admitted, 11,531; children born in army hospitals, 6,085; number of eventide homes, 6; aged people accommodated, 294; visits to prisons and police courts, 11,300; number of services held in prisons, 2,451; prisoners met on discharge, 4,440; free beds given to prisoners, 7,928; free meals given to prisoners, 21,065; handed over to Salvation Army by courts, 2,292; persons found employment, 10,367; lodgings supplied to indigent persons, 633,607; meals supplied to indigent persons, 944,318; children given summer outing, 1,424; missing friends found, 563; gospel meetings held, 169,677; attendance, 7,110,585; processing conversion, 14,282; centres of work for all purposes in Canada, 1,047.

To quote Rt. Hon. R. R. Bennett: "The Salvation Army, as a great religious philanthropic organization, by practical and direct preaching and organized efforts against social evils, has brought spiritual and material aid and comfort to the friendless, unfortunate and wayward. I pay tribute to the splendid work of the Salvation Army and wish you every success."

KIPLING SOCIETY

"Some Childhood Memories of Rudyard Kipling," a paper written by Mrs. A. M. Fleming, sister of the noted author, was read to the members of the Victoria Kipling Society by Miss B. M. Carlisle at their meeting on Wednesday evening. This interesting article dealt first with Kipling's early life in England. It was from this period that he drew many incidents related in his autobiographical story, "Baa-Baa Black Sheep." Following was a description of a holiday spent with his cousin, Stanley Baldwin, now Earl Baldwin, and late Prime Minister of England. Mrs. D. C. F. McArthur read two poems: "The Duckey Crew," from "Schoolboy Lyrics," and "The Cat That Walked by Itself," from "Just So Stories." A short article, "Kipling Was No Critic," from John O'London, was read by Mrs. W. J. Neal.

Two members of the society, Mr. and Mrs. H. Trueman, have lately left Victoria for a visit to England, where they hope to meet the members of the central society and attend the annual luncheon which is held in London in June.

Opposition Will Not Be Changed

If Telford Votes C.C.F., Conservatives Still Opposition

Rumors in Vancouver that the C.C.F. would be named the Opposition at the next session of the House, because of Mrs. Laura Jamieson's election in Vancouver Centre Monday, were discounted by local politicians today.

At the last session the Conservatives had eight members, because of the return to the fold of R. W. Bruhn, for some years an independent member. The C.C.F. had seven. Since his election as mayor of Vancouver, however, Dr. Lyle Telford resigned from the C.C.F. and will sit in the House as an independent, with strong C.C.F. leanings. So that leaves the parties as they were last session.

Had Dr. Telford not resigned, the Conservatives and C.C.F. would both have had eight members and Premier Pattullo would have been forced to name the Opposition. Had this been necessary, it is felt the Premier would have chosen the Conservatives, because they were members of an older party and one that has had experience in government.

In Vancouver, however, C.C.F. members are figuring on the support of Mayor Telford and Thomas Uphill, Labor member of Fernie, who often votes C.C.F., but not always. "With this in mind there is mention on the mainland that Harold Winch, youthful C.C.F. member for Vancouver East and C.C.F. whip at the last session, may be named C.C.F. leader and then Leader of the Opposition, replacing R. L. Maitland, K.C."

"We are the actual Opposition," Mr. Winch said, when questioned in Vancouver on the matter. "I feel we deserve recognition as the official Opposition, both on grounds of our voting power in the Legislature and for our work."

There will be a C.C.F. convention in Vancouver in June, when it may be decided to rescind the clause in the constitution that says no member may have two elected positions at the one time, thus releasing Dr. Telford from his resignation from the party. Election of Mr. Winch as House leader of the C.C.F. may also be made at the convention.

Name 10 For Rich Derby

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

IF ONE IS to believe the smart boys, Johnstown will win the Kentucky Derby tomorrow in a walk. It appears every racing fan in the blue grass state is going to have his money down on the colt when the field, which promises to be one of the smallest in the history of the classic, faces the starter at Louisville.

Future book bettors took a beating yesterday when W. E. Boeing of Seattle announced the scratching of his Porter's Mile. The Pacific Northwest colt had attracted a large following, many of whom got their money down at good odds in the advance wagering. Their chances were killed off before the horses even stepped onto the track. That is one of the breaks of the racing game.

But to get back to the subject of Johnstown, James Fitzsimmons always said of the horse, if he was a stayer, he was a wonder. "If Johnstown can go on the way I now believe he can, he is a better horse than Gallant Fox," the trainer declared. "And the Fox was the best horse I ever handled."

Fitzsimmons doesn't know whether Johnstown can run in mud, although Jimmy Stout, who rides the son of Jamestown, reports he does not like a cuppy, heavy or sluggish track. "But he might be a superior mudraker for all I know," says Fitz. "Any doubt I might entertain about his mud-running ability comes from information furnished by Stout. Anyway, I hope the track is dry and fast when I run him."

In rubbing a 14-year-old Jamaica track record off the books... a mile and 70 yards in 1:40.45... Johnstown ran swifter as he went along. While he sped the first mile in 1:37, competent clockers said he traveled the mile from the judges' stand to the finish in 1:36.25, a phenomenal feat over a slow strip.

Johnstown, which has not this season had to look another steed in the eye, felt just a fifth of a second short of the American record which is held jointly by much less weighted nags which ran on faster ovals.

Mike Hall, which beat Sun Beau in the $100,000 Agua Caliente Handicap, ran a mile and 70 yards in 1:40.35 at Latonia in 1927, but lugged a mere 103 pounds. Chaser, with 104 pounds up, did the same time at Coney Island in Cincinnati four years ago.

Johnstown ripped the route with 120 pounds on his back. His fractional times were 0:23 for the quarter, 0:46 2/5 for the half, 1:11 2/5 for the three-quarters and 1:37 for the mile.

And Stout declares that the colt was under slight restraint in the early stages and under a pull in the final three-sixteenths.

Johnstown was tired at the end of his run. He was puffing and blowing when he entered the van to be taken to his home grounds at Aqueduct to cool out, but long before he reached his stable he was not taking a long breath.

Johnstown is an intelligent animal. Attendants say he sees everything and knows everything going on at his barn. While being cooled out under his shed, he demonstrated that he knew where the commissariat was situated. Every time he passed it on his rounds of the stable he attempted to bolt to it.

Reprimanded a few times for not going about his business and forced to continue his long cooling out, he became fidgety and angry, and by loud and frequent whinnies made Fitzsimmons know he was hungry.

"If he attempts to dive at that feed room next time around," Fitzsimmons instructed the colt's groom, "let him go and get him a handful of hay. Feed it to him while he's walking around. He's hungry and it won't do him a bit of harm. It will be sort of an appetizer and make him enjoy his dinner better."

So round after round of his shed Johnstown yawned, munching a bunch of hay held out to him by the groom.

Small But Select Field Will Go to Post at Louisville Tomorrow

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A field of 10 three-year-olds, topped by the big handsome Johnstown, was entered today for tomorrow's 65th running of the Kentucky Derby.

With the announcement from trainer Frank Letellier owner Junius W. Bell would not start his brown colt, Steel Heels, all the eligibles given a chance of going to the post tomorrow had been entered in the racing secretary's office an hour before the 8:30 a.m. deadline for closing of the lists.

With 10 entered, the field still eligible to go postward before an expected crowd of more than 80,000 tomorrow is the same size as that which ran the mile and a quarter a year ago.

However, William Woodward entered the giant Challenge along with the highly-favored Johnstown as an entry and there was still some doubt as to whether the son of Challenger II would go to the post with his more illustrious stablemate, unless it comes up mud. Should he be withdrawn, the field would be the smallest since Exterminator's derby win in 1918.

OTHER ENTRIES

Along with the Woodward pair, all the expected entries were made, with W. L. Bran's Challenge, Herbert Woolf's Technician, William Ziegler Jr.'s El Chico, and J. H. Whitney's Heather Broom considered those most likely to make trouble for the long-striding son of Jamestown. Others in the list were the Derby Trail Stakes winner, Emerson F. Woodward's Viscount; Mrs. Bessie Franzheim's mud-running Xalapa Clown, the only black in the field; Joe W. Brown's T. D. Dorsett, and Mrs. Thelma V. Mars' On Location, the "Outside-est" outsider in the field.

With the elimination of Steel Heels, the jockey lineup also became fixed for Charley Kurtzinger, winner of two previous derbies with the record-smashing Twenty Grand and the great War Admiral, was given the mount on Challenge. Previously, he had been mentioned as the jockey for Steel Heels.

JOCKEY SWITCH

A spectacular switch in riders, placing Johnny Adams astride Technician, supplied the chief topic of mint julep conversation today as every train, car, bus and airplane poured the horse pilgrims into this temporary mecca of the equine world.

The news struck the bars and bistros last night that Herbert M. Woolf, owner of the west's hope in the mile and a quarter scramble, had hired Adams, boy wonder from California, to replace Ira Hanford on Technician's broad back, and from then on there was talk of little else.

Without much doubt, the shift in jockeys will make Technician a firm second favorite to Johnstown by the time they face the barrier tomorrow afternoon.

From the tenor of conversation, it would appear that the three horses actually in the big race are Johnstown, Technician and Challenge, with the others, including El Chico, and Heather T. D. Dorsett, and Heather T. D. Dorsett, and Heather T. D. Dorsett.

Relegation Worries

English Football Season Ends Tomorrow With Several Clubs in Danger

LONDON (CP)—English football ends tomorrow in a doubtful atmosphere. Champions of the league's four divisions clinched leadership some time ago and the curtain will be rung down with low-placed teams battling to avoid relegation.

Bristol Rovers, one of the oldest established clubs in the south of England, is facing a financial crisis and the low ebb of the fortunes of Birmingham, and Leicester City, major league, is emphasized by the resignations of General Liddell and Frank Womack, their respective managers.

The necessity of raising £2,000 ($9,400), to pay summer wages is causing anxiety at Bristol. A leading sportsman has offered to donate £500, provided the balance is forthcoming. And if Walsall is successful at Cardiff tomorrow, the Rovers will be forced to apply for re-election to the third division's southern section.

Leicester City is doomed to spend next season in the second division and only a sensational loss by Chelsea in a home match against Bolton Wanderers can save Birmingham from the same fate. The Pensioners must lose by at least seven clear goals to forfeit senior status.

With Tranmere Rovers booked for the third division, Notts For-

Relegation Worries

English Football Season Ends Tomorrow With Several Clubs in Danger

LONDON (CP)—English football ends tomorrow in a doubtful atmosphere. Champions of the league's four divisions clinched leadership some time ago and the curtain will be rung down with low-placed teams battling to avoid relegation.

Bristol Rovers, one of the oldest established clubs in the south of England, is facing a financial crisis and the low ebb of the fortunes of Birmingham, and Leicester City, major league, is emphasized by the resignations of General Liddell and Frank Womack, their respective managers.

The necessity of raising £2,000 ($9,400), to pay summer wages is causing anxiety at Bristol. A leading sportsman has offered to donate £500, provided the balance is forthcoming. And if Walsall is successful at Cardiff tomorrow, the Rovers will be forced to apply for re-election to the third division's southern section.

Leicester City is doomed to spend next season in the second division and only a sensational loss by Chelsea in a home match against Bolton Wanderers can save Birmingham from the same fate. The Pensioners must lose by at least seven clear goals to forfeit senior status.

With Tranmere Rovers booked for the third division, Notts For-

Senior Elevens Battle Tomorrow in Double-header at Athletic Park

An attractive soccer menu will be offered followers tomorrow. In a doubleheader at the Athletic Park four senior elevens will scrap for final berths in the Jackson Cup series and at Central Park Nanaimo and Victoria juvenile squads will collide in a battle to decide the Vancouver Island championship.

First cup tussle at the Athletic Park, at 2, will be between Young Liberals and Saanich Thistles, while Garrison and Victoria City will take the field for the second encounter. The title scrap at Central Park will be between St. Louis College and Nanaimo Harwood Cubs, under 14 juvenile teams.

Manager Ed Whyte's Liberal aggregation of the Intermediate League, which was knocked out of the Province Cup series by Esquimalt by a heart-breaking 3 to 2 overtime defeat, will be out to gain sweet revenge at the expense of the Thistles, cellar-berth occupants in the Victoria and District League. Thistles will turn out a young, fast team to stop the Liberals. The suburban squad has shown vast improvement since the early part of the season and will likely make things interesting for the opposition. They will be strengthened by the return of Eddie Brown, Johnny Campbell and Jimmy Gilson, former Thistle men, and two other players.

The Garrison-Victoria City scrap will be a replay of their Jackson Cup game of two weeks ago, which ended in a deadlock. Overtime will be ordered if necessary in this match, but not the first.

The Work Point lads are considered capable of turning back the City men on the strength of their 4 to 1 win over Esquimalt in the final of the local Province Cup series last week and general play throughout the season. The City is badly lacking in scoring punch, but if they can bolster their firing line for tomorrow's game their chances of humbling the first Tommies would be much greater.

In their last meeting to try and decide the new island juvenile champions in Nanaimo, the Collegians and Harwood Cubs ended their battle in a 3 to 3 draw after overtime and tomorrow they will again make their bids for entry in the British Columbia playdowns. "Scotty" Dowds will referee the first game at the Athletic Park and Joe Obee the second.

Teams follow: Saanich Thistles—Webster, Bisenien, Crowe, Speller, Cochrane, Mowat, Hope, Boone, Campbell, Gibson, Brown, Underwood, Robson, McDonald, Tregellis, Ono and Wansley. Players are asked to be at the Royal Athletic Park at 1.45.

Victoria City—Rowe, Fieldhouse, Esler, C. Robbins, G. Robbins, W. Robbins, M. Williams, R.

Ted Williams Hits Homer As Sox Win

Drives in Seven Runs to Beat Detroit 7 to 6; Yanks and Giants Victors

Rookies are rampaging in the major baseball leagues this spring in perhaps the greatest spree the freshman class, as a unit, has ever had.

There is scarcely a club which isn't depending on one or several recruits for regular service and most of them have responded heroically. Yesterday's play proves the point.

Boston Red Sox beat Detroit Tigers 7 to 6 and five of their seven runs were knocked in by Ted Williams, who came of age just last October after a great season with Minneapolis in the American Association, is one of the best reasons the Red Sox are pressing New York Yankees from half a game back.

Chicago White Sox replaced Washington in third place by beating the Senators 4 to 3 and two of their runs came on a homer by catcher Ken Silvestri, who came up this year from St. Paul and has been doing a great backstopping job.

St. Louis Browns humbled Philadelphia Athletics 9 to 3 with Henry Gramer, a professional pitcher just three years, going the route on eight hits. It was his third start and second victory against no defeats. He was given plenty of working margin by sophomore Mel Mazzera, who bopped in four runs on two homers.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

In the National League New York Giants trounced St. Louis Cardinals 6 to 3. It was Manny Salvo, late strikeout king of the Pacific Coast League, who walloped Johnny Mize's third homer off the year in a three-run first inning outburst and finished the game with a total of seven hits. He is the only Giants pitcher except Harry Gant to go the full route this year.

The losing teams have some rookie stars, too, and the leading batter of the senior circuit is Merrill May of the Phillies, who had a perfect day at bat even though his team was beaten by Pittsburgh Pirates 6 to 4 on home runs by Jim Tobin and Johnny Rizzo and some swell relief hurling by Russ Bauers.

No youngster's figured in Brooklyn's 6 to 2 conquest of Chicago Cubs. Yesterday's game became the trophy of Van Lingle Mungo, who came up only one run in eight innings of relief pitching and batted in two himself.

The New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians also are using rookie cylinders, although they played minor parts in the champions' 10-inning 10 to 6 victory. This marked the collapse of Bob Feller's playhouse, for the young Indian lost his first game after three victories by giving 10 walks and 10 hits in 9 1/2 innings.

The New York standard was veteran George Sel

Langford Races Tomorrow Night

Classy List of American
And Island Cars and Drivers To Be Seen

It'll be a whiz-bang affair at the Langford Speedway tomorrow night when crack American drivers and ambitious local pilots take off for honours in the inaugural automobile race meet of the season here.

Four coast drivers and cars will be competing with seven islanders and their power plants. The oval has been resurfaced, improvements have been made to the stands and all in all a good time is promised for those who are interested in the thrilling sport.

The No. 1 car of the Pacific coast heads the list of competitors. That is Glen Shaw's Seattle special which will be driven, as in past seasons, by competent Swede Linskog. This pilot provided many a thrill last year for the customers in the process of coping money positions.

Car No. 3, another topnotch job in coast racing circles, will have at its wheel, daredevil Tommy Legge. This Seattleite made ninth place in the Oakland Memorial Day contest last year against the leading drivers and cars of the United States. He's out to take over Linskog's throne.

Lew McMurtry and Jimmy Symes make up the quartette of competing visitors. Both drivers have taken part in local meets before and fans will remember them for their fearless driving. Bert Sutton will head the local drivers with the sleek Island No. 1 car owned jointly by himself and Jack Smith.

The program for the evening will include lap races, helmet dash, stock car racing and the main event. The time trials will open the show at 7.45.

WINDSOR ALUMNI ARE BACK HOME

Eastern Basketball Players
Laud Treatment
Received in Victoria

WINDSOR, Ont.—Back from a fruitless trip to the Pacific Coast in search of the Dominion men's basketball championship, members of the Windsor Alumni team today had nothing but praise for the sportsmanship and friendly spirit shown them by the conquerors of the Victoria Dominos. Everything was handled smoothly, the players agreed.

The team returned unostentatiously and, coming in by train to a Detroit station, missed anything resembling a civic reception. Windsor dropped the odd game in a best-of-five series to Victoria last week.

Manager Howard Campbell still wasn't convinced his team was the poorer of the two. Without wishing to alibi he pointed out that captain Red Wiseman was unable to make the trip because of a broken arm suffered in the eastern Canada playoff series while the other regular guard, Stan Nantais, missed the last two games due to injuries.

OAK BAY THEATRE
Money is worth absolutely nothing in one place in the world.

That place is the African jungle, not Utopia. Such is the testimony of Armand Deniss,
his wife Lella Roosevelt Deniss, world explorers, whose latest film, "Dark Rapture," a Universal release, is now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

While it undoubtedly takes a lot of money, usually something in the hundreds of thousands of dollars, to take an expedition to Africa, there is no use for money once the traveler gets into the forest country.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP) — A pause in export demand for Canadian wheat, plus forecasts of rain for the United States winter wheat belt and reports of showers from some sections, brought small losses to wheat futures prices at Winnipeg today. Final quotations were 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower, May at 65, July 65 1/2 and October 66 1/2 to 67.

Export sales were placed at 200,000 bushels worked chiefly from the Atlantic seaboard. Liverpool followed yesterday's climb on North American markets and finished 1/4 to 1/2 up. Buenos Aires was unchanged most of the session.

Cash wheat trade uncovered a good demand for all top northern grades by exporters. Pit-trade in coarse grains was featureless.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE, with Major Hoople

OUT OUR WAY—

Uncle Ray

The Human Voice

Parrots and some ravens have been taught to talk; but human beings can do a much better job of it. For our power of free-flowing speech, we can thank the throat, along with the tongue, mouth and lips.

Air goes into the lungs, and then comes out again. If we choose to speak, we can make the air work on our vocal cords in a way that makes sounds of one kind or another.

Diagram showing how tongue is fastened in the mouth

When we start to talk, the vocal cords tighten up, and nearly close the gap existing between them when they are at rest. Outgoing air strikes the tight cords and makes them "vibrate" and produce sounds.

There is one pair of true vocal cords, a cord on each side of the windpipe. These cords have been compared to the reeds of an organ.

Our lungs are like bellows which send air against the organ's reeds. The throat and mouth are like sounding boards, and the mouth, lips and tongue take the place of an organ's "stops."

Yet we obtain more than music from the human voice. It makes it possible to utter words and to have a language. Our vocal cords, and other speech-making parts, work so well that we can put sounds together in thousands of ways.

Partly because of this power, men have first place among all beings of the earth. By speaking, one person can tell his thoughts to another. Perhaps many animals have things they would like to tell us if only they could speak.

Eighty-five years ago, a singing teacher found a way to study the vocal cords in action, with the help of mirrors. Since then, other ways have been learned to see this part of the throat.

The vocal cords are rather close together during speech, but there is an opening or "chink" which changes in size and shape. This is one way we are able to utter different sounds. Changes in tightness of the cords also change the sounds.

The vocal cords of a man are a bit over half an inch long. A woman's vocal cords are only about two-thirds as long as those of a man. This explains the fact that a woman's voice has a higher pitch than a man's. Around the cords is a "larynx" or "voice-box." This becomes larger as a person grows from childhood into an adult.

HOROSCOPE

Saturday, May 6, 1939

According to astrology this is a mixed day in which good and evil planetary aspects contend. The early morning should bring good news of a personal nature to many.

There is a promising sign for writing letters and making legal contracts. The stars favor what has been well thought out and discourage impulsive decisions.

Deceit and secret plans may extend through many groups. There may be an international incident traced to efforts of aliens in this country.

The assassination or sudden death of one of the three dictators of Europe has been prognosticated. Attempts to end power by violence may be repeatedly prevented in coming weeks.

Portents of grave possibilities are discerned affecting the power of Stalin, whose regime may be undermined. Economic problems will be pressing in Germany and not easily solved in Italy.

Interest in horse-raising will increase as the spirit of speculation takes many forms and stimulates betting on races east and west.

There is a good sign for workers. In certain trades increase of wages is indicated. Men will be luckier than women in gaining employment.

Girls may expect friendship rather than romance where young men are associates. This is not an auspicious day for love affairs. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of prosperity. Mines and mining may attract, but speculative enterprises should be avoided.

Children born on this day may be studious and painstaking. Many of these subjects of Taurus are affectionate and sympathetic. Their ruling planet is Venus and their lucky color dark blue.

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"If I take this one, Mother, promise me you won't wear it before I use it at the Junior Prom!"

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—My sister has had an affair with a married man 20 years older than she. When his wife found it out, she went to my sister and had a kindly talk with her, with no reproaches in it. She told my sister how much she loved her husband and what it would mean to her and her child to have their home broken up. She also blamed herself, saying that perhaps she had neglected her husband on account of her ill health. As a result of this talk the husband and wife are reconciled and trying to live happily together again and looking forward to a better future. But, although my sister told the wife that she was sorry for what she had done, she will not let this man go. She still phones him and meets him and is drawing him back to her. Don't you think she should leave him to his good loving wife and find some single man of her own age? And what about her own future?

Answer: Of course, your sister is doing a terrible and a cruel thing in dragging this poor weak man back into her toils, but women who have set their hearts on other women's husbands have few scruples and no mercy. Every woman who has an affair with a married man knows exactly what she is doing and what a crime she is committing not only against a sister woman, but also against innocent and helpless little children when she breaks up a home.

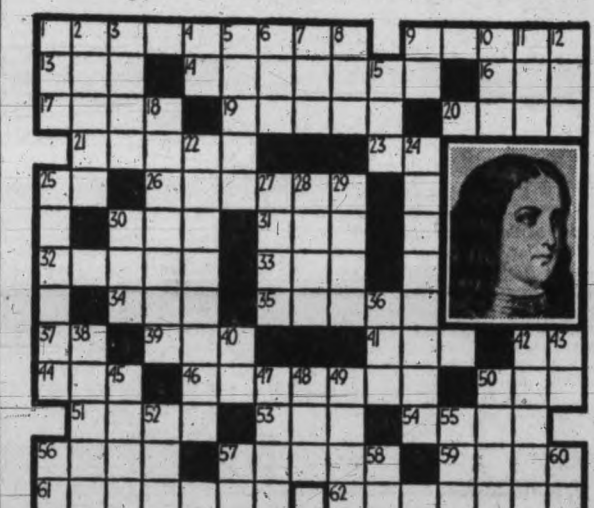

She knows the jealousy that tears a wife's heart when her husband forsakes her for a younger and fairer woman. She knows the humiliation that sears the very soul of the neglected wife. She knows how blighted are the children of divorced parents, but that doesn't stay her ruthless hand. She takes what she wants, with no compassion for the suffering she causes.

The strange thing about the husband-stealer is not that she has no pity for the other woman in the case, but that she has so little regard for her own welfare. For, in the great majority of cases, she has to pay and pay and pay for her sin.

Sometimes, it is true, she succeeds in making a man divorce his wife and marry her. But she finds that the man who was not true to one woman will not be true to another, and that she cannot build her house of happiness on the wreck of another woman's. And, mostly, she finds that philandering husbands have no intention whatever of giving up their wives and getting into messy scandals. They are merely amusing themselves with their little affairs and getting a kick out of thinking that they are still devils with the ladies.

Empress of Australia, the liner that will take them to Canada tomorrow, it was learned reliably yesterday.

There is a remote possibility, however, the cruiser Repulse might be used for the return voyage if the international situation brightens.

Use of the Empress of Australia for both crossings would obviate the rearrangement of accommodation and fittings, as would be necessary if another liner were used.

Earlier yesterday the London office of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Line said the present arrangement called for the Empress of Australia to go back into regular passenger service after the King and Queen land at Quebec, May 15.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver's English societies plan a colorful ceremony to be staged on the grounds of the City Hall May 24 as their contribution to the general festivities surrounding the visit of the King and Queen, May 29.

China will be the general service used on the Governor-General's cars—Limoges china with a gold band, each piece bearing a crown in gold.

QUEBEC (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King will be the first to greet the King and Queen when they arrive here May 15, starting their Canadian visit.

The Prime Minister will board the liner Empress of Australia, which is to bring Their Majesties to Canada, upon its arrival in Quebec harbor.

He will present Lieutenant-Governor E. L. Patenaude and Mrs. Patenaude, federal cabinet ministers and their wives, Premier Maurice Duplessis and other officials.

Patients of the Vancouver General Hospital who can be moved breaking a long standing precedent, decided today that King George and Queen Elizabeth will be presented with a key to Washington when they visit the capital.

"For years," said Mr. Hazen, "we have not presented keys to the capital. One trouble has been that there are so many distinguished visitors to Washington."

OTTAWA (CP)—Noise at school usually gets children into trouble, but the youngsters of First Avenue public school actually are getting time off from their studies to shout as long and loud as they can.

They are doing it to help crowd-shy horses of the Royal Canadian Dragoons which will march in the escort to the King and Queen during the Royal Visit to Ottawa. To school the horses to noise and the fluttering of flags it was decided the children should be called in to provide the crowd atmosphere.

Every morning an extra long recess is granted the children. They line up on the street outside the school, each with his or her flag as the dragoons clatter by.

MONTREAL (CP)—The metamorphosis was brief, but Mayor Camille Houde, serving his fourth term as Montreal's chief magistrate, assumed a new role yesterday—that of ladies' fashion arbiter for the Royal Visit.

Walking in on a meeting at City Hall where women relatives of municipal officials were being advised by experts on what to wear and how to act May 16 in the presence of the King and Queen, Houde announced:

"For the afternoon, dresses can be worn short or half-long or long—or so I'm told. And I would ask you (turning to the fashion experts) to be lenient. Aldermen are not rich, no matter what you may read to the contrary, and many of the wives already have bought their dresses; so don't ask them to make any purchases they can't make."

CALLANDER, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Elzire Dionne, mother of the quintuplets, said today she would wear an ensemble in the new Japanese shade—a rust tan—for her presentation to the King and Queen in Toronto, May 22. Her famous daughters and their

STAMP COLLECTING SOCIETY ORGANIZED

Junior Philatelic Society
Formed: Aubrey Bastin
Named President

The Greater Victoria Junior Philatelic Society held its organization meeting recently with Aubrey Bastin elected president for the remainder of the year. Miss Theresa Wragg was chosen vice-president; Miss Ellen Brayshaw, secretary-treasurer, and Owen Evans and Gerry Dunn, executive members.

The meeting was held under the guidance of the organization committee comprising H. Lethaby, V. Bigwood and F. Dymont who explained to the prospective members the aims of the society and the benefits to be attained by membership in such an organization.

Mr. Lethaby spoke on the significance of the special stamps to be issued on May 15 to commemorate the visit of Their Majesties to Canada.

It was announced that the society would meet on the second Friday of each month at the Women's Institute Hall, 635 Fort Street, when arrangements will be made for a period of instruction in the scientific angle of the hobby and the correct manner of arranging stamps in albums and the best ways in which to write them up. Other periods in the evening will be devoted to interchange between members and competitions will be held from time to time, to test the knowledge of the members pertaining to stamps.

WANT VETERANS TO LINE ROYAL ROUTE

A further appeal to ex-soldiers to register with veterans' associations in the city for duty from 9 to 10:40 on the morning of May 30 on a section of the Royal Procession route was voiced last night by Alderman S. H. Okell, chairman of the city committee in charge of those arrangements.

The alderman stated he hoped to see 2,000 volunteers for the work, which, he noted, would not be a test of endurance and would not engage the men for any material length of time.

Veterans, he said, would be asked to line the route on Yates Street from the intersection of Douglas to Fort and Joan Crescent to Government House.

Disabled war veterans who register would be supplied with accommodation on the grounds of the Parliament Buildings, it was stated.

Representatives of Oak Bay, Saanich and Victoria as well as veterans' organizations attended the meeting of the committee last night in the clubrooms of the Naval Veterans' Branch of the Canadian Legion.

ARMS PROFITS LIMIT VOTED

Senate Amends
Bill, But Leaves
Margin 5 Per Cent

OTTAWA (CP)—Despite the criticism of Conservative senators against the 5 per cent profits limitation clause in the defence purchasing board bill, the Senate yesterday gave the measure final reading and sent it back to the Commons with a few minor amendments.

Government Leader Raoul Dandurand defended the clause, which limits noncompetitive arms contract profits to 5 per cent of the capital employed. He said government experts had assured him the board would be able to administer the bill to protect the treasury and compensate the arms manufacturer.

Continuing his protest against the profits limitation aspect of the measure, Senator Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, insisted industrialists would not accept contracts for arms where the profits were limited to 5 per cent—which would be as low, he contended, as 2 per cent when all charges were considered.

The government had let contracts for 64 airplanes two years ago to three firms which build aircraft. After two years, not one airplane had been delivered, he said. "This was not done under any 5 per cent clause but on 10 per cent on all production costs, and that was as good as 25 per cent on the capital employed."

Workers in automobile factories have added to slang a whole list of names for car parts, such as dog collar, tin hat, pancake, spider, and banjo.

father, Olivia, also will be represented. The quintets, it is believed, will don white dresses, shoes and stockings. "I'm just a farmer and don't know what I should wear," Dionne said. "I guess it will be an ordinary business suit."

Canada's Imports in March $53,380,844

OTTAWA (CP)—With the United States the leading contributor, Canada's imports in March totaled $53,380,844, compared with $65,055,628 in March, 1938, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports.
